State-Wide Tests Reflect Well on Pupils Here But Officials Find Many Questions Unanswered

"Take these test results public. Scores by school with a very large grain of salt," is the advice of school board president Winthrop Pike. "There is less here than meets the eye," is the observation of director of Student Services Charles Huchet.

Both comments were made this week at a press conference held precisely at the legally-set 60th day after the state gave Princeton the results of the 1972 state-wide testing program for fourth and 12th-graders.

"Superficially," Dr. Huchet begins, "Princeton's schools did quite well, compared to reference groups. But closer inspection raises more questions about the tests themselves than what they tell us about student needs. Yes, we did well, but there are a lot of 'howevers'."

There were four test areas: fourth-grade reading and math, and 12th-grade reading and math. Princeton's outcome:

Grade 4 reading: In 77 of the 80 items—96 percent of the cases—Princeton exceeded the New Jersey Suburban group which was chosen as the basic comparison group.

Grade 4 math: In 48 of the 60 items—80 percent—Princeton exceeded the Suburban group.

Grade 12 reading: In 73 of the 80 items—91 percent—Princeton did better than the Suburban group.

Grade 12 math: In 75 of the 85 items—88 percent—Princeton did better than the Suburban reference group.

The state sent data to the schools in late March in the form of data-processing print-outs with local results, and mimeographed tables which gave results in the state as a whole and in sub-groups which the state believed relevant to the district. For Princeton, this meant suburban districts, other regionalized districts, Mercer County districts and districts in the state's southwest.

There is no way of identifying individual districts within these groups; that is, Princeton can't zero in on Lawrence, for example, and make comparisons. Dr. Huchet and his colleagues used Suburban as a guide: its scores are slightly higher than regional district scores, and indeed are the highest in the state.

Individual student's scores weren't provided by the state. The state did report scores by classroom in the fourth grade, but these aren't to be made public. Scores by school building and by district, are public. The two-volume report assembled by the state and by Princeton's staff are in each Princeton school and will shortly be in the Princeton Public Library as well.

Qualifications. Now, the "however" list begins.

The state asked school districts to indicate the items that might be "irrelevant," either because they hadn't been taught yet, or because the district hadn't included them in its curriculum. Princeton with its multi-age classrooms and its individualized instruction felt it was impossible to find out which students had had what. So all items were declared "relevant."

Tests were divided into "clusters" made up of separate items. Each item was multiple-choice with four choices. But clusters had different numbers of items. Fourth-grade reading, for example, had nine items on study skill, and 23 on phonetic analysis. Also, each item was reported separately—the number of students who got it right and the percentage. There is no score for a cluster as a whole.

In addition, Dr. Huchet points out that each item differs from the others in the cluster. In 12 addition-subtraction items, for example, one concerns fractions, one percentages, and so on.

"If a kid misses a problem and it's the only problem like it, how can you say that kid doesn't know how?" Dr. Huchet asks, "and since only right answers were reported, we don't know which wrong answers the kids chose. It is critical not to have a pattern of wrong answers—you find 15 percent right choices on one item, 75 percent on another and you don't know why."

Another problem is the difference between the numbers of students who took the test, and the numbers of kids in various buildings. Johnson Park is a small school: each fourth-grade student in that school accounts for 3.3 percent of that building's score!

Facts Are Missing. One of the most fundamental gaps, in

FETE OPENS SATURDAY
Auction Preview Friday. The Princeton Hospital Fete, the annual but still extraordinary fund-raising event for the Medical Center at Princeton, is expected to attract as many as 40,000 persons this Saturday to the Fete grounds on Washington Road, on the West Windsor side of Carnegie Lake.

The Fete officially opens at 9 Saturday morning, although two events of note are scheduled Friday. From 12 to 6 the Fete auction tent will be open to the public for inspection of the many items that will be sold the following day. The newest listings for the auction include an Oriental rug valued in five figures; an autoclave, which is an instrument used by surgeons to sterilize their instruments; and a water bed.

Later Friday, from 7 to midnight, the annual Fete dinner-dance will be held for the Fete volunteers and their spouses, who number more than 3,000. Reservations closed after 700, however, because that's the capacity of the dance tent. Music will be provided by the Lamplighters, a 17-piece orchestra, and by Harry Heher on piano.

The dance ends promptly at 12, because the tent must be readied overnight for the antique car show, which is one of the day-long events of the Fete itself.

A detailed account of all the Fete events and activities would fill the pages of this newspaper, but a list of highlights accompanies this article. In addition to the auction and antique car show, the Fete also features children's games; a flea market; midway, with typical carnival attractions; two different raffles; a garden section; the Lane of Shops featuring various specialty items; and food, some for on-site consumption, other for taking home.

Many New Toys. Fete shoppers interested in buying perishable foods or plants are reminded that the Fete workers will provide cold or frozen storage at the site all day. As a result it's possible to buy early, enjoy a full day at the Fete, and not worry about items being spoiled.

Toys are expected to be a good buy this year. Several area merchants have donated new items to the Fete. The Nassau Street fire last winter also produced some smoke-damaged goods that have been donated.

For those without transportation to the Fete grounds, Fete workers will run a jitney service all day Saturday from the front of the Nassau Presbyterian Church, opposite Palmer Square on Nassau Street. The vans will leave about every 20 minutes.

DIABETES SCREENING

At Fete. The Princeton Township Health Department, under the chairmanship of Board of Health member, Dr. Melvin Benarde, will conduct a free diabetes screening at the Hospital Fete, June 1.

If you plan to be tested it is important that a full meal, with plenty of carbohydrates, be eaten 1-1/2 to 2 hours before the test. It is a quick and simple test and takes but a few minutes of your time.

The Diabetes Screening Tent will be manned from 10 to 3.

OTHER PAPERS will run your classifieds for half price, or for nothing if they do not sell. In TOWN TOPICS, you'll find more ads and better results.

CYCLIST HOSPITALIZED
Believes Accident Deliberate. A 20-year old motorcycle driver who was struck by a car early Sunday morning on Mercer Street later told police that he believes the driver deliberately tried to run him down.

Roger Swab, 20, of Erie, Pa. was taken by the First Aid Unit to Princeton Medical Center, where he was admitted with a compound fracture of the left leg and possible fracture of the left ankle, following the 12:55 a.m. accident. In a statement taken by police Monday afternoon at the Medical Center, Mr. Swab told them:

"It happened real quick. We approached each other and he cut into my lane and came straight for me. I think he was trying to scare me. I tried to move over as much as I could but he kept coming over. I really think he deliberately tried to hit me."

Ptl. Peter Hanley has charged the driver, Paul E.
Campbell, 18, 5 Borosko Place, Princeton Junction, with leaving the scene and careless driving." Police said that he had been drinking and that Campbell had agreed to take a Breathalyzer test.

Police quoted Campbell as saying that after he had turned onto Mercer from Springdale, "my friends told me that I had hit someone on a motorcycle. I was scared, so I turned into a side street. I wanted to go back but my friends told me to change my tire first."

According to the police investigation, the initial impact flattened a front tire of the Campbell car, causing it to leave a black trail on the roadway. Ptl. Ronald Holliday followed the trail, which police said swerved from side to side, south on Springdale and west on Haslet. The officer found the driver attempting to change a tire three-tenths of a mile from the accident.

The cyclist continued on Mercer Street after impact, finally coming to rest against the curb. Both vehicles had to be towed away.

Skidding Accident. Two drivers were hurt as the result of a skidding accident during a rainstorm Thursday afternoon on the Princeton-Kingston Road.

Newark, was treated at the Medical Center for contusions of the hip and knee. Marvin E. Rule, 63, 87 Laurel Avenue, Kingston, sustained multiple contusions.

Mr. Rule told police that he applied his brakes when he saw the van coming near the intersection of Riverside Drive and he began skidding into the opposite lane. The entire front of his car was damaged in the crash, which also tore up about 50 feet of lawn at 644 Princeton-Kingston Road.

Ptl. Jerry Offredo ticketed Mr. Rule for careless driving.

Driver Dozes, Rider Hurt. A 15-year old passenger was hurt last week when the driver of the car he was riding in fell asleep at the wheel, went off the road and struck a pole.

John McLaughlin was taken by the Princeton First Aid Squad to the Medical Center for treatment of multiple contusions and abrasions. The driver, Dennis M. Gates, 28, escaped injury but his car was adjudged a total loss. Police said both were residents of North Charleston, S.C.

Mr. Gates told police that he was driving on Lawrenceville Road last Wednesday near Quaker Road. "I dozed off and Mac (McLaughlin) yelled, 'Look out!' but it was too late, and I struck a pole." He was charged by Ptl. Renn

The Mix Is Right
It's nice that "Honey"
Rhymes with "sunny"

Now if the Weather Man will just take the hint, all those people planning the Honey of a Fete Saturday, and the thousands more expecting to attend will find sunshine gracing the occasion.

For the next couple of days, some of the showers and more of the cool that have marked the latter part of May figure to stay with us. In sharp contrast to the first four months of the year, May is going into the record books with temperatures averaging below normal. In fact, "degree days," those units measuring the need for heat when the mean temperature runs below 65, are still with us.

Come on, Man, Saturday—Fete Day—is the first of June!

Kaminski with careless driving.

$1050 IS STOLEN
From Aljon's Sub Shop. A cash box containing $1050 was stolen Monday from Aljon's Sub Shop, 157 Witherspoon Street.

Township Patrolman Robert Nielsen observed a broken window around 6 in the morning and notified Borough police. After Ptl. Ronald Holliday and Ptl. Victor Fasanella investigated and determined that the broken window had been used as an entry into the shop, they notified the manager, William Gardener, who arrived and told police that the cash box had been stolen.

Four Apartments Entered. Borough police are also investigating the entry of four apartments at 135 Bayard Lane.

Police received a call from one of the occupants at 1:32 Monday morning reporting that his apartment had been entered between 6 p.m. and 1:30 a.m. Police declined to reveal his name but reported that he lost 14 items including a stereo system, transistor radio, tape recorder, television set and camera.

The other occupants were away, police said, but there was evidence that their apartments had been entered. Sgt. Arthur Gallant dusted the premises for fingerprints.

A stereo system valued at $315.60 and a $40 clock radio were taken between 10:30 p.m. and midnight Monday from a room at the Princeton Inn College on Alexander Street.

Chief Michael Carnevale reported that the room had been entered via a window but declined to reveal the name of the occupant. Ptl. Holliday and Ptl. Fasanella investigated.

Caught In Dorm Room. A 15-year old Township youth has been charged with breaking and entering after he was caught by university proctors inside Room 153 at the Inn College.

He was later released to his parents, after being processed by the juvenile officer.

NO SITE PLAN YET

LaPlaca Asks Extension. Site plans for the 32-unit condominium Charles LaPlaca hopes to build on the old quarry site, are not yet ready and Mr. LaPlaca's lawyers have asked the Princeton Regional Planning Board for an extension. This would place the proposals on the board's July 2 agenda, rather than on the agenda for next week.

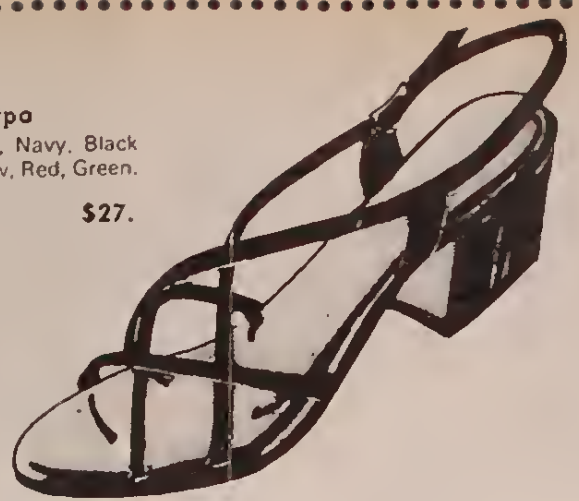

The board will meet next Wednesday, June 5, moving its regular first-Tuesday meeting because of primary elections. Presumably, Mr. LaPlaca's request for postponement means that he will not appear, as originally supposed, before the Borough Zoning Board's June 20 meeting.

The Planning Board may act, at its Wednesday meeting on Borough Council's decision to repeal the zoning change in the Spring-Tulane area. The

"No Special Treatment for University"

"There has never been any thought that Princeton University would be granted any special concessions," said the CBD Committee of the Princeton Regional Planning Board this week, replying to concerns from merchants and citizens that such special treatment might indeed result from announced CBD plans.

The University owns Palmer Square, the Playhouse and the parking lot next to the Playhouse and is the largest property-owner in the Central Business District "core" area. The Borough, with its own parking lots, also owns a great deal of land and the Planning Board long ago decided that these two large property-owners would have to cooperate, or "future development of these open areas would not be satisfactory."

A statement signed by William H. Walker II, chairman of the Planning Board's CBD committee; Barbara Sigmund, Borough Council member on the Planning Board, and Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley, declares that "it has been the accepted principle that Princeton University would be subject to the same conditions and criteria as any other CBD landholder." "Mutual briefing sessions" have been held now and then, and land exchange has even been considered, the statement says.

With the Borough assuming parking responsibility, it is the small property-owners who will benefit most, the statement says, because these are the ones who now find it "absolutely impossible" to provide their own on-site parking. "Clearly Princeton University will benefit when the parking requirement is modified, but so will all property-owners," the officials say.

They also point out that it's an advantage to have larger parcels in single ownership because it's hard to get many diverse owners to cooperate in an overall development plan. It is also an advantage, the officials believe, when a large landowner is local, "and as responsive to community needs as is Princeton University."

was sent to shut down the engine and silence the horn. A taxi driver first notified police of the incident.

The right front window of a Borough patrol car was shattered by a coke bottle thrown at it Saturday night as it was driving on Clay Street. The driver, Ptl. Peter Hanley sustained a laceration of the ankle from flying glass fragments.

A 15-year old Township girl was arrested Friday night on Campus Green and charged by police with possession of marijuana. She was later released to her parents.

Chief Carnevale said that it was yet another illustration of the continued use of marijuana on and off the campus.

THIEF STRIKES TWICE

In Hun School Dorm. Two Hun School students living in Poe Dormitory were the victim of thefts last week.

Kelvin Maxie told police that he had left his door open when he left his room for a few minutes. When he returned, he noticed the top drawer to his desk open and $40 was missing. A closet door also had been opened, he said, but the contents were undisturbed.

Ronald Baker was absent from his room from 1 to 2:30. His door had been forced open and he lost two record albums

SPRING CLIMAX

Streakers, Mooners. Spring and the approaching end of the school year proved to be a heady combination for some students last week in Princeton.

Police report that 20 to 25 streakers left the campus last Tuesday evening after 10, crossed Nassau Street, streaked through the A&S Luncheonette and then streaked back on campus. "When our patrol got there, they were GOA," (gone on arrival) said Chief Michael Carnevale.

Friday evening, a youth walking on Cleveland Lane waited until he was visible in the lights of an approaching car then dropped his trousers and exposed his buttocks. Chief Carnevale said that the practice was popular years ago and was called "mooning."

Friday's mooner was described as about 15 with blonde hair, glasses, red shirt and blue trousers.

Wednesday morning at 12:58 a.m., a group of students descended on the parked "Dinky" at the University Place station and managed to start its motor and activate its air horn which sounded continuously.

TWO MEN CHARGED

With Assault on Driver. Two Princeton men have been charged with the assault and battery of a Trenton driver on Witherspoon Street Sunday evening.

They are James Miller, 22, 7 Lytle Street, and Jeffrey Bullock, 25, 102½ Leigh Avenue. Both are scheduled to appear in Borough court on June 19.

According to police, the driver, Dimitrij Checheenia, 52, was passing a double parked car near Maclean Street when someone banged on his car. Not knowing whether he had struck the parked car or had been struck himself, the driver stopped.

He was approached by Miller and Bullock, who allegedly dragged him from his car and assaulted him. Mr. Checheenia suffered lacerations and confusions over his left eye but refused medical treatment. He signed the complaint summons against his alleged attackers.

The point of this emblem is—cross out your car and hop a bus. A Princeton Loop Bus, naturally, and before too long, a Princeton Shuttle bus from Jadwin lot into the Central Business District.

Starting right now, you can board a Suburban Transit New York Express bus anywhere north of Lovers Lane, for a 35 cent local ride.

In the mail this week, you'll receive a Loop and Shuttle timetable, courtesy of the Greater Princeton Chamber of Commerce. (If you have an RD address or a Princeton post office box, you won't receive one, but schedules will be available at banks and stores throughout Borough and Township.)

Public hearing will be held this Thursday at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall on Council's ordinance to change ten-hour meters to two-hour meters. Ten-hour meters that remain, will cost $1.25 for the 10 hours instead of the present 60 cents.

The meter change is a device to get all-day parkers, West Windsor Township Committee have announced they will launch a township wide petition drive protesting the New Jersey Historical Drama Association's amphitheater proposed for Central Park in West Windsor.

An effort will be made to get the signature of every resident of West Windsor opposed to the amphitheater. The petitions will then be forwarded to the Mercer County Parks Commission.

Both men feel that the petition is one of the steps needed to change the mind of the Democratic-controlled Mercer County Parks Commission and have them place the amphitheater elsewhere.

While many West Windsor groups and individuals have already written protest letters, to no avail, it is hoped that the gaining of two or three thousand signatures will have more impact and make the positive statement that West people who work in Princeton, to park in the Jadwin Gym parking lot and take the 25 cents shuttle to work. The shuttle will begin whenever the meter change-over can be effected.

Meanwhile, what do you think of the logo shown here? The Transportation Committee would like to know. Call Borough or Township Hall.

Windsor residents don't want the amphitheater!

Mr. Walter and Mr. Royal are also working with Mercer County Freeholder candidates Tom O'Neill and Joanne Frazer in seeking an alternative to the Central Park site. While admitting that the drama presentation could be very worthwhile, all four agree it doesn't belong in West Windsor.

A site that had hotel, motel and restaurant facilities nearby would be more advantageous. The location of a proper site is a problem they hope to solve for the Historical Drama Association.

Both Mr. Walter and Mr. Royal have publicly pledged, "To do all that we can to keep the amphitheater out of Mercer County Central Park."

The petitions will be circulated throughout the Township by volunteers and will also be available at stores and businesses in West Windsor. Persons wishing to circulate a petition in their neighborhood or club may call Mrs. Fran Walter at 586-0899 or Ms. Joan Archer at 799-0525.

Degrees Are Awarded to Princeton Area Residents

The following area residents have been awarded degrees at spring commencement ceremonies:

Paul A. V. Eisler, son of Mrs. Helga D. Eisler, 1 Harris Road, who will receive a Bachelor of Music degree Saturday from the Manhattan School of Music. He majored in saxophone under Joseph Allard and plans to spend the summer in New York, freelancing as a musician and taking courses at Manhattan School.

Roger F. Ablett of Griggstown, a B. S. degree in economics and business administration at Wagner College in Staten Island.

William G. Bowen, 83 Stockton Street, president of Princeton University, an honorary degree of doctor of letters from the Jewish Theological Seminary of America in New York. He was cited as "the guiding spirit of a great university" and for his "expertise in social change and economic relations" at the Seminary's 80th commencement.

Miss Lois Annich, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Russell W. Annich of Trenton, a bachelor's degree from Middlebury College. A 1970 graduate of Princeton High School, she is one of 60 students in the country awarded a Rockefeller Fund Grant for Theological Education. She will study next at the Yale Divinity School.

A bachelor of arts degree in psychology has been awarded by Hood College to Patricia Kidd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kidd, Logan Drive. Miss Kidd, a Princeton High School graduate, was also awarded the Julius Kofmann prize for outstanding achievement in German.

Richard P. Embley Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Embley, 23 Humbert Street, was among 464 seniors receiving degrees from Providence College at its 56th commencement exercises. He received the B.S. degree in business-management.

Like Mother...

High school senior Dolores S. Ross, of 22 Bayberry Lane, Belle Mead, will have to share the graduation limelight this spring with her mother, Mrs. Carmen Ross.

Mrs. Ross will graduate next Tuesday from Immaculata High School in Somerville. A member of the National Honor Society, she will begin pre-law studies at Rutgers in the fall.

Mrs. Ross, meanwhile, receives her doctorate in education from the Rutgers Graduate School of Education this Thursday. She teaches fulltime in the Department of Science and Humanities in the Graduate School of Education.

Grinnell College has awarded a bachelor of arts degree to Wendolyn R. Oliver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oliver, 16 Overbrook Drive. A graduate of Princeton High School, she majored in English.

Mark K. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Anderson, 5 Brookdrive East, Kingston, was awarded a bachelor of science degree in commerce and finance at the 27th commencement of Wilkes College, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

The University of Dayton, Ohio, awarded a bachelor of science degree in education to Robert W. Bruschi, son of William C. Bruschi of 165 Grover Avenue. He majored in physical education.

Joyce J. Walstedt, of 60 Harriet Drive, receives her doctor of philosophy degree this Thursday from Rutgers University. She wrote her dissertation on "The Role of the Father in the Socialization of Altruism and Otherness" in Women. The project involved personality studies of 106 adult women and the role their fathers played in their upbringing.

A doctor of philosophy degree from Rutgers University will be awarded this Thursday to J. David McKee, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. McKee, 188 State Road. Now a resident of Summit and a visiting lecturer in psychology at Fairleigh Dickinson University, Mr. McKee's dissertation was on "analytical assessment and hierarchical training of young children's conservation of nonmetric liquid volume."

Laura A. Curtis, of 294 Western Way, who will receive her doctor of philosophy degree this Thursday from Rutgers University, wrote a dissertation entitled, "A Defoe Anthology: Writings on Politics, Economics and History, with Introductory Essays." She is also a graduate of Cornell University.

Imagine! USAC tests show our Plymouth Duster V-8 got better mileage than Nova 6 in city driving.

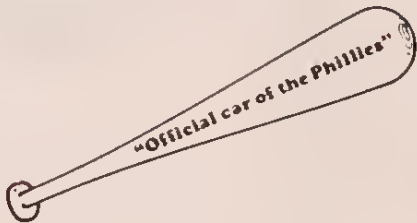

All that starting and stopping in heavy city traffic gobbles up the gas. Now, that's where our little Duster, with its gas-squeezing V-8 engine, really shows its colors. It delivers the good mileage in town, and comes through with the power-to-pass on the expressways. But good gas mileage isn't the only thing Duster has going for it. It also offers small-car handling and parking, room for five people inside, plenty of trunk space out back and a nice easy price. Small wonder that America's No. 1 selling compacts come from Plymouth. C'mon in to Joyland today! And see what we mean.

FOUR THAT DIDN'T GET AWAY: Four boys from a group of Princeton youths that Borough police took to Blairstown this month for a weekend of fun and games display their success at fishing. From left are Chris Wells (sunfish), John Hart and Francis Davidson (small mouth bass) and Sean Cavanaugh (pike). Police, in turn, caught a big "thank you" from the boys. (Arthur Gallant Photo)

Normally, boys 13 to 17 prefer to have nothing to do with police, but that isn't true any longer for 23 Princeton youths.

A week ago the Borough police department treated 23 Princeton boys in that age bracket to a weekend at the Blairstown Summer Camp facilities owned by Princeton University. Not surprisingly, all said that they would like to go back, commented Chief Michael Carnevale.

The germ was planted a year ago when the University made the camp available to the police department. "I was one of the few that went up that weekend, and I immediately saw the tremendous potential to take a group of youngsters to the camp," the Chief recalled.

After the University agreed to let the police use the camp, they sent out letters to kids who had participated in their basketball and police, student programs. They asked the Juvenile Conference Committee for names of boys that might be interested.

A member of that Committee, Robert King, also went on the trip and helped immeasurably to make it the success that it was, Chief Carnevale said. The trip was organized by Capt. Theodore Lewis. Joining him on the trip were Lt. John Bellow, Sgt. Thomas Michaud, Pti. William Fitch and Sgt. Arthur Gallant, the latter trip photographer and bus driver.

Juvenile Officer Douglas Watson was instrumental in planning the menu but was unable to go at the last minute because of an injury. But he had planned well. During the two nights the boys were at the camp, the menu included steak, spaghetti and sausages and pancakes. Chief Carnevale has one "thank you" note expressing appreciation to the police responsible for the trip but underlining how good the food was.

During the day, there was softball, basketball, fishing, boating and ping-pong. At night, the police showed football films used by the university in its recruiting.

"I think it's just fantastic that police and men like Mr. King will give up their weekends to help boys have a good time," commented Chief Carnevale. He described the outing as a huge success, and added that police were looking forward to doing it again next year—if they can obtain use of the camp again.

Walter and Stefan Guzy. Both said they would not vote to move an avowed candidate into the seat.

Mrs. Singer and Allen T. McQuarrie had already been named by the Democrats to run in November. She had first been appointed to the Board of Health in 1970 and has been considered largely responsible for the development and enforcement of the Township's strict new septic system standards.

Mayor Stuart expressed sharp disappointment with the Republican action, calling Mrs. Singer "eminently qualified" because of her Health Board experience and work on the Citizens Advisory Committee to the Planning Board and the Township's Site Plan Review Committee.

On the resolution appointing Mrs. Singer, Messrs. Guzy and Walter voted "no," while Committeeman Alan Stutz and Mayor Stuart voted "yes." Mr. Flatow abstained.

"Mini-Fete" Raises $600 for Quarry Park

A Quarry Park "mini-fete" May 18 in front of the old quarry site grossed about $600 for the Quarry Park Association, a group dedicated to transforming the land into a community park. The sum brings to around $900 the contributions made so far to the Association from 200 residents of the Princeton community-neighbors of the quarry and others.

Future events to continue the fund-raising are in the planning stage, according to John DeGrazia, founder and moving force in the Association. One possibility, he says, is an International Festival, perhaps in June or July.

"We're preparing a blueprint of plans for the park which we're going to submit to Borough Council, and we're open to suggestions from residents," Mr. DeGrazia said this week, "for example, the escarpment overlooking the original quarry would make a fantastic natural amphitheatre, but of course for the sake of senior citizens in Lloyd Terrace, we'd prohibit amplified music and all that."

The land is owned by Charles LaPlaca who has presented to the Regional Planning Board his plans to construct a 32-unit condominium on 3.3 acres at the site. The board has declined to recommend that the Zoning Board grant Mr. LaPlaca the conditional use variance he needs to put up the units. However, this denial of approval doesn't mean Mr. LaPlaca can't go before the Zoning Board anyway, and he is scheduled for appearance there on Thursday, June 20.

In the first step toward possible acquisition of the land as a public park, Borough Council has retained Edmund Cook to appraise the property.

HOSPITAL MUST WAIT

On Housing Conversion. The Medical Center of Princeton wants to buy still another house—at 45 Henry Avenue—and convert it to hospital offices, but the Township Zoning Board decided last Wednesday to look more deeply into the matter.

Zoning will ask the Planning Board to examine the hospital's own long-range plans, based on its 1966 master plan, against housing studies now being made by the Planning Board itself. Spokesmen for the Medical Center told the Zoning Board, as they have in the past, that the Center plans to acquire houses in the Henry-Harris area as they come on the market.

The Zoning Board, concerned about housing shortages in Princeton wants more information before any "spot-zoning." The Medical Center would need a Special Permit.

Mrs. Lucia B. Hastings, 13 Newlin Road, wanted to build a storage shed measuring about 12 x 18 feet, to house the bikes and various paraphernalia of a large family. By a straight sex vote, the Zoning Board turned down her request for side-yard variance: the three men told her "no," the two women on the board, voted "yes." Board members suggested Mrs. Hastings come back with plans for a smaller structure.

SPENCER BRUNO NAMED

To W. Windsor Committee. A. Spencer Bruno, Cranbury Road, Grovers Mill, was appointed to West Windsor Township Committee Monday night, after an hour-long, emotional discussion between committee members that split along party lines.

Mr. Bruno's appointment was necessitated by the upcoming resignation of Peter J. Flatow, who is moving to a new job in Pittsburgh. Mr. Flatow, a Democrat, cast the deciding vote, after his two abstentions produced a 2-2 deadlock between the two Republicans and Democrats on committee.

Mayor William A. Stuart first proposed the appointment of Mrs. Grace L. Singer, chairman of the West Windsor Board of Health. She was immediately challenged by Republicans Richard Stuart proposed Bruno's name. Mr. Guzy and Mr. Walter said they wanted to talk over possible nominees in private. Mr. Stuart, however, pressed for a public decision before June 1, the date of Mr. Flatow's resignation. A roll call on Mr. Bruno produced the same 2-2 split.

Although Mr. Flatow had not voted, Township Attorney Harry Heher advised that the statutes did not prohibit an about-to-resign Committee-man from taking part in choosing an interim successor.

To resolve the deadlock, Mr. Flatow finally cast a "yes" vote, putting Mr. Bruno into office.

While both Mr. Walter and Mr. Guzy pledged to work with the new appointee and not contest the action, they implied that the local Republican organization might pursue such a challenge in court.

Mr. Bruno operates his own market research firm on Washington Road in Princeton Junction. He is chairman of the school board's Educational Goals Steering Committee and vice-president of the High School Athletic Booster Club. He is a member of the West Windsor Developmental Committee, a coach for the West Windsor Little League, and a former member of the Planning Board.

The new Committeeman will be sworn in Saturday by Township Clerk Lewis B. Chamberlain. His appointment runs through December 31. The remainder of the term, which continues through 1976, will be filled by election this November.

BANKERS ELECT MATHER
To State Association. Ralph A. Mather, chairman of the board of the First National Bank of Princeton, has been elected to a two-year term as member of the Governing Council of the American Bankers Association. The election was held by the New Jersey members of the ABA at the 71st annual convention of the New Jersey Bankers Association last week in Atlantic City.

PRIZES AWARDED

By Jersey Savings and Loan. The grand opening celebration of First Jersey Savings and Loan Association's new Princeton office has ended with the awarding of the prizes in the sweepstakes. The winners of the Motorola Quasar Portable Color TV were Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Tobin of Hamilton Square. Mr. Tobin is employed at McLean Engineering in Princeton Junction.

The television set was presented to the Tobins by Miss Nancy Tomon, Manager of the Princeton office. The new facility opened on April 6 in the Princeton Shopping Center.

Mini-grandfather clocks were awarded to Robert Borg of Princeton, Philip Delorne Jr. and Prija R. Shah of Trenton, and Samuel Pendyke Jr. of Plainsboro. Toasters were won by Dan Mitchell and Vida Chu of Princeton and M. L. Savalli of Yardville.

Mrs. Suzanne Richardson of

Princeton Junction, J.M. Rice of Princeton and Diane Buehl of Kendall Park received 20-cup party percolators.

SALES WOMEN NAMED

At Weidel Realty. Weidel Real Estate Inc. has named Barbara L. Mastrogeorge, of 39 Moore Street, and Amy Rayner, 6 Gulick Road, as sales associates in the firm's Princeton office.

Mrs. Mastrogeorge, who attends Rutgers University, is a Red Cross volunteer for the Meals-on-Wheels program and is a member of the National Organization of Women.

A resident of Princeton since 1957, Mrs. Rayner attended Stetson University in Deland, Florida, and later served as loan manager for the Commercial Credit Corporation office in Orlando, Florida. She has served on the PTA board, and on the hospitality committee of the Merwick Unit of the Medical Center.

HAIRSTYLIST CITED

In New York Competition. Richard DeMaria, owner of the House of Athens hairstyling salon at the Kingston Mall on Route 27, received four awards at the 1974 International Beauty Show at the New York Hilton. Photographs of his award-winning styles will be on display at the House of Athens through Thursday, June 6.

Competing against 350 hairstylists, Mr. DeMaria received awards for hair-cutting, "beautiful people total fashion," teenage total fashion, and an award entitled, "World Supreme Runner-up."

Carol Demetrian, a stylist on Mr. DeMaria's staff and also a model, recently won third place in the 1974 Pennsylvania State Hairdressing Association competition. It was her first professional contest.

HOW'S YOUR GARBAGE?

Questionnaire Seeks Answers. About 850 Township householders have been revealing such family secrets as how they get rid of old tires, whether they dump coffee grounds in with the New York Times or separate the old from the news, and whether they cart garden rubbish all the way to the dump or hire somebody to take it away.

Garbage collection in the Township is done by both private collectors and municipally-paid collectors. Mrs. Marian Moffat, chairman of the Joint Solid Waste Study Committee thinks present practices may be uneconomical and inefficient and her committee has sent around 1,170 questionnaires in an effort to find out some facts.

So far, an astounding 850 of these have been returned (returns prodded, in many cases, by a two-member telephone team which has made about 150 calls).

Selected according to scientific sampling procedures, the questionnaire covered all 13 election districts in the Township, and there has been "very sturdy response," Mrs. Moffat says, from all 13.

The questionnaire asks whether the householder uses private or municipal collector, asks whether the collector makes pick-ups when he's supposed to, picks up stray litter, treats garbage cans properly and whether he makes a lot of noise.

Mrs. Moffat's group is also interested in knowing whether people separate garbage from newspapers, metals and glass, and how people get rid of garden rubbish and bulky things like old washing machines.

Most important, perhaps, the Solid Waste Study Committee wants to know how much people pay per year, and whether they'd pay more for better—such as curb-side—service.

Many householders made comments, and all these will be carefully noted. Questionnaire results will be run through a University computer.

LOMBARDO REPLIES

To Fellow Council Member. Continuing his comments on the suit of Timothy J. Sheehan against the Borough, Councilman Martin P. Lombardo this week declared that two unnamed "individual defendants" in the suit "have sold their homes to their wives for little or no consideration, thereby preventing the Borough from seeking contributions from them should it desire to do so."

At the last Borough Council meeting, Councilman Robert Powell revealed that the Borough has twice demanded that its insurance company, The Travellers, defend the Borough against the Sheehan claim. The company has refused, he said, and lawyers have now drafted a complaint against the company.

Mr. Lombardo cites half-a-dozen instances in which the Borough has lost court cases brought by Borough residents, and suggests that the case against Travellers may not fare much better. Litigation with the insurance company may cost "huge sums," Mr. Lombardo warns.

"Mr. Powell has quite properly raised the question of sensational publicity concerning this case," Mr. Lombardo continues. "I would like to reply that the facts surrounding this suit are intrinsically sensational and it is not I who made them so."

"If public disclosure of the truth can aid Mr. Sheehan in any way, then it would appear that he has a far stronger case than indicated to the public because the true story, just as in Watergate, will eventually come out."

The Councilman implies the Borough "is depending upon strategic moves and suppression of the facts to extricate itself from this suit."

He suggests that it might be "advantageous for the Borough to have independent advice as to the likelihood of any success against the insurance company." He states that the upper limit of insurance liability is $3 million, which might not cover any judgment if Mr. Sheehan should succeed in court. He also asks what the Borough's position would be if only one defendant is found liable in the Sheehan case. Mr. Sheehan has brought suit against 14 elected former Borough officials and staff.

Mr. Lombardo also accuses Mr. Powell of "not addressing the fact that this (Sheehan) building has been sitting there for six years, producing no sizeable taxes and may very well remain an eyesore regardless of the outcome of this suit unless some positive action is taken by the municipality."

almost as ridiculous as suggesting that only nativeborn Princetonians should serve the community. I suggest that there always has been communication between Town and Gown and that, given common sense, there always will be. Don't Light Fires, or Cry Wolf, when there is no wolf and no fire.

In conclusion let me say that, in my position as an Ordinary Citizen and without any preconditions, those people most qualified to serve OUR Princeton Community, newcomers and oldtimers, are those dedicated people who take the time to go through the process of primary and general elections; then, once Elected Officials, they should be allowed to do their work. They should be allowed to do their work for us by choosing whomever they deem qualified to serve in any manner these duly elected officials decide. If we disagree with their decisions, we, as a Community have the right, and yes the DUTY, to turn these officials out of office at the next election.

Houses Need Numbers.
To the Editor of Town Topics: There is a small nuisance in this town which has bothered me off and on over the years I have lived here and that is: The difficulty of finding the number of a house from the car or sidewalk.

Not long ago I did a little research and found that both the Township and the Borough have something in their codes about house numbers. I quote from the Princeton Township Code, Buildings: Sec. 5-27,

Since in my case I have all of this background of eligibility, let me state, flatly, that it is patently ridiculous to even suggest that the only people qualified to serve any community are those who, by accident of birth, started life there. How far back do we go for eligibility, the Mayflower? Where do we draw the line? Those persons who have come from other communities to Princeton may, in fact, have seen situations develop that they may, through that experience, realize would not be good for the Princeton Community. Experience still teaches, and all experience does not have to be home-grown.

Concerning the University, I, too, feel that at times the University has indeed been insensitive to the community. And so has the Seminary. Let us hope that Mrs. Mershon's 18th-century house at 159 Nassau Street does not suffer the same fate as Thomson Hall.

The other side of the coin is the lack of the University and the presence of a What? Factory, Shopping Center, Roller Rink? What other kind of business or organization would be cooperative with the community in which it was located?

Blanket condemnation of the University and people who have affiliations with it is

Who Can Be a Public Servant?
To the Editor of Town Topics: Following is a copy of a letter I have written to Mayor and Council:

I wish to respond to newspaper reports regarding eligibility for Borough Council and-or assorted boards. Unfortunately, according to what I read in our local papers and have heard, I am one of the very small numbers of people eligible to serve on the Borough Council and any of its appointed boards--and the same may apply to Township Committee and its designated boards. I am the ONE, according to what I read.

You see, I was born in Princeton, and my father was born in Princeton, and my grandfather was born in Princeton, and my great-grandmother "most probably might have been" born in Princeton. Poor great-grandfather would not be eligible; unfortunately he was "from the Falls of the Delaware" in Bucks County, Pennsylvania, before he came to Princeton after service in the Civil War. I am sorry he was so foolish as to have tainted our family's eligibility.

My background also includes the Tree Streets. Great-grandfather's house is on Maple Street, grandfather's house is on Linden Lane, and my father's house is on Hawthorne Avenue.

Very, very grateful thanks from Dr. and Mrs. H. P. Van Dusen for their promptness, competence and kindness, on the occasion of the fire in our home at 27 Armour Road on the night between May 7 and 8.

It is times like these, as when an emergency ambulance is needed, that one appreciates what dedicated and trained volunteers Princeton produces.

We are grateful also to the police who arrived in three minutes and knew how to cope, and did so.

A Kitten Is Gone.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
To an Unknown Driver:
We hope you enjoyed your dinner last night.
Frankly, we could not eat.

On returning from work we were greeted by a dancing happy Manx kitten, which had lived all winter in our garage with her sister. Fifteen minutes later we found her, hideously hurt, crouched near her feeding bowl, unable to eat or drink for pain.

She was, in fact, in such pain that we could not catch her to take her to the veterinary office. She ran, with her broken leg dangling and her wounded belly bleeding, into a tangle of brush—in such pain that when we later found her under the front porch she slashed out with her teeth at the hands from which she had known only love. Because she tried again to run we had to leave her there, safe at least from further hurt.

She is dead now. We found her this morning next her untouched feeding bowl, her eyes still wide with fright and pain. Her agony is done. But who will now care for the blind sister she played with, loved, and guided to food and away from danger—the sister too terrified to be caught, blundering her dark way through the underbrush?

And who will dance in the sun which follows the rain?

And you. Are you the same person who left a white puppy screaming in the Carter Road ditch with a broken back? Who deliberately ran up on our neighbors' lawn to kill their magnificent black cat? Who purposely veered to hit, and leave in danger, another loved pet cat on Broad Street?

We hope you enjoyed your dinner last night. At the speed you were driving you probably got home in good time.

Frankly, we could not eat.

Mrs. Maurice H. Smith

Freedom for Dogs Wanted.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
I think it is best to let the dogs run loose in Princeton. I feel safer with dogs, and they are a lot of company for everyone. We enjoy having them on our patio so much, they keep us company.

If there is any dog that is a problem, then that dog should not be allowed to run loose—such as barking at postmen, or one that carries away newspapers or steals things.

Dogs naturally are not to be tied up. They get mad if not walked a lot. Please let the dogs run loose on Balsam Lane, as we all love them so very much.

MRS. ELMER TWYMAN
47 Balsam Lane

News Of The CHURCHES

NEW THEORY ADVANCED

About University's Origin. Historians for the past two centuries have described Princeton University at its founding as a religiously liberal institution which repudiated the "narrow sectarianism" of 18th century Yale.

Now a Princeton alumnus, Class of '59, and an assistant professor of history at Carnegie-Mellon University, David C. Humphrey, has challenged that assessment. His article, "The Struggle for Sectarian Control of Princeton, 1745-1760," was judged the most distinguished article in the 1973 volume of "New Jersey History Magazine." The New Jersey Historical Society will honor Mr. Humphrey at its annual dinner Thursday at Morven, the Governor's mansion.

In the article Mr. Humphrey says that the founders of Princeton, then called the College of New Jersey, repeatedly maintained their claim that it was a "catholic" institution, but "undermined their claim by engaging in a series of maneuvers to gain and retain exclusive control of the college."

"This dimension of Princeton's past, customarily glossed over in studies of the college, shaped the reactions of most mid-century Anglicans, Old Side Presbyterians, and Dutch Reformed," writes Mr. Humphrey. "Struck by the persistence of sectarianism at Princeton, they looked elsewhere to meet their educational needs."

The New Light Presbyterian founders of Princeton, he argues in his article, "used Yale, where a majority of them had graduated, as a point of reference to measure their achievement..."

'Restricted Vision.' Since Yale was ruled at that time "exclusively by Congregational clerics and was noted for its readiness to curtail the religious liberty of dissident students," it is understandable why "Princeton's leaders were struck by their college's catholicism. But their vision was a restricted one..."

One man who has held to the theory of Princeton being founded as a liberal institution is Frederic Fox, recording secretary of the University. Commenting on Mr. Humphrey's article, he pointed out that some of those "maneuvers to gain and retain exclusive control of the college" were actually defensive moves to keep the college out of the hands of the British.

"Depending on how you view the history it is possible to see Princeton's founding as either an attempt to gain more freedom or perhaps as a reaction to too much freedom," Dr. Fox said. "But the original charter welcomes students from any denomination."

The original charter, he said, "doesn't say white, Presbyterian or male, even though that may have been the practice at first. We were founded at a very lucky time and our charter gave us magnificent freedom. Much more than the charters of Yale or Harvard."

PENTECOST MARKED

At Trinity Church. A special Pentecost Festival will be held this Sunday at Trinity Church. The festival will begin at 10 in Pierce Hall, with appropriate folk hymns, and will then continue in the church.

Adults and children have been working together for the past three weeks in workshops in drama, art, music, bread baking for the Eucharist and the creation of banners and stoles—all of which will be incorporated in the Pentecost Service. Pentecost commemorates the coming of the Holy Spirit to the apostles on the day of the Jewish festival.

An informal, outdoor lunch will follow the service. Then a medieval play, "Noah," will be presented under the direction of Mrs. Christina Keck, a member of Trinity and a student at the Seminary. The case includes adults and children from Trinity and students from the University and the Seminary. After the play the Youth Group will lead various games.

MUSICAL PLAY SET

At United Methodist. The children's choir and orchestra of the Princeton United Methodist Church will present a dramatic version of the Old Testament story, "Cool in the Furnace," Sunday, June 9, at 6 in the church. The play is free to the public.

Based on the story of three Israelites who were captured by King Nebuchadnezzar and then ordered thrown into a furnace when they refused to worship idols, the play's leading roles are held by Andrew Shelpuk, Don Dyson, Doug Dyson and Fred Beck, as the king.

David Dyson plays the part of Daniel and narrates the production. The musical director is Mrs. Annette Sims.

BULLETIN NOTES

The Rev. Dr. C. Shelby Rooks, executive director of the Fund for Theological Education Inc., will preach at this Sunday's 10:30 Communion service at the Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church. Dr. Rooks, a Princeton resident, will leave August 1 to become president of the Chicago Theological Seminary.

A barbecue chicken and spare rib dinner will be served Saturday from noon to 6 in the dining room of the Morning Star Church of God in Christ, 43½ Birch Avenue. The donation is $2.50 and orders may be called at 924-5478.

On Sunday afternoon at 3 the congregation of the Morning Star Church will honor its pastor, Elder Curley Guidry, who is completing his seventh year at the church. Elder A. Neal, recording secretary of the Church of God in Christ in New Jersey, will speak. Choirs and solo singers will be heard, and a free dinner will follow in the church dining room. The public is invited.

The 162nd annual commencement of the Princeton Theological Seminary will be held Tuesday at 10:30 in the Princeton University Chapel.

The preacher at Sunday's 11 o'clock service in the Princeton University Chapel will be Dr. Donald Macleod, Professor of Preaching and Worship at the Princeton Theological Seminary. His subject will be "The Rediscovery of Praise."

The First Presbyterian Church of Dutch Neck begins its summer schedule this Sunday, with only one service of worship, at 9:30. A special church school day program will be held this Sunday.

An appreciation dinner will be held Saturday, June 8, at 7 in the First Baptist Church for Mrs. Bessie L. Christian, the church organist, in recognition of her nearly 40 years of service. Tickets are $5 and may be purchased from Mrs. E. Brown, 924-1038; Mrs. B. Simpson, 924-1004; Mrs. I. Dixon, 924-0717; or the Rev. Edward Smith, 924-0877.

Sunday, June 9

A committee of five women headed by the co-chairmen, Ms. Oneta Campbell and Ms. D. Kavanagh, have worked, supported by YWCA Board Members and volunteers of all ages, to make the Strawberry Festival a success.

Under a tent, the day will be filled with colorfully decorated tables, bright, hand-crafted aprons and lively music. Teenagers will man the clean-up detail while other volunteers are preparing strawberries, cakes, and tending to the

Obituaries

Lee A. Wiley, 53, of West Long Drive, Lawrenceville, died May 24 in Mercer Hospital. An active civic and business leader, he was a former president of the Trenton-Mercer County Chamber of Commerce.

He graduated from Trenton High School and attended Mercersburg Academy and Lehigh University. In 1940 he joined the Wiley-Hughes Supply Company, which was co-founded by his father. He was president of the company at his death.

He was a member of the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church, and served as an elder and former clerk of the session. An Army veteran of World War II, he was a former president of the George Washington Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mary Helen Thornton Wiley; three daughters, Mrs. Douglass Ludwig of Morrisville and Jane T. Wiley and Ann M. Wiley, at home; his mother, Mrs. LeRoy H. Wiley of Trenton and Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

The funeral was held in the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church. Burial was in Ewing Church Cemetery at the convenience of the family. Contributions may be made to the Mercer Medical Center or to a favorite charity.

Mrs. Emma Poinsett, 83, of 8 Gordon Avenue, Lawrenceville, died May 22 at the Princeton Nursing Home. She lived in Lawrenceville most of her life.

Born in Trenton, she was past president of the Lawrenceville Fire Company Ladies Auxiliary and a charter member of the Mercer County Ladies Fire Auxiliary.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Jessie Stout of Lawrenceville; one son, John of Lambertville; three grandchildren; and 11 great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held in Pennington, with the Rev. H. Dana Fearon, pastor of the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church, officiating. Interment was in Lawrenceville Cemetery.

many tasks that go into the creation of a successful day.

Fresh strawberries served under mounds of whipped cream on homemade pound-cake will naturally be the main attraction of the day. Strawberries by the quart will also be available to take home.

The festival will be the only major fund raising event held by the YWCA this year. All proceeds will benefit the Bates Fund and World Fellowship.

The Bates Fund provides scholarships to women and girls whose present economic condition would otherwise prevent them from participating in YWCA programs. The fund, created in the memory of a former YWCA Board Member is sustained through contributions from YWCA members and friends.

The World Fellowship provides financial assistance to national and international YWCA programs that are helping to produce a really human world where people live fully and freely.

For more information concerning the festival or the YWCA, call 924-4825.

MAGAZINE FETED

On 30th Anniversary. The Quarterly Review of Literature, an international literary magazine which has been edited in Princeton since 1968, celebrated its 30th anniversary earlier this month. The QRL, edited by Theodore and Renee Weiss of 26 Haslet Avenue, will this week publish a special retrospective poetry issue to mark the occasion.

The birthday party began with a panel on poetry and translation, an important element of the Quarterly

Hear the Candidates

All nine candidates for Congress from the Fifth District will attend a Coffee Hour Sunday at 10:30 at the Princeton Jewish Center.

Each candidate will speak briefly about himself and list his reasons for seeking office. The public is invited. (For information on each of the nine, see Pages 1B-4B of this issue.)

Review's content, and included Richard Howard, Mark Strand, Brian Swann, Clarence Brown, Edmund Keeley and Robert Fagles. It was followed by cocktails and dinner at the Princeton Inn College and readings by 15 of the poets present.

The poetry retrospective will be an anthology and history not just of the QRL but of the literary scene from the 1940s to present. Included in the issue are poems by Cummings, Moore, Stevens, Pound, Jarrell, Williams, Plath and Lowell; translations of Valery, Cavalcanti, Perse, Cavafy and Mandelstam; articles on poetic form by Williams, Bogan and Wilbur; and an interview of Marianne Moore.

The QRL was founded in 1943 by Warren Carrier and Mr. Weiss, then beginning instructors at the University of North Carolina. Mr. and Mrs. Weiss have been responsible for the editing since Mr. Carrier went off to World War II. Mr. Weiss's teaching assignments have taken the Weisses from North Carolina to Yale to Bard to Princeton, and they have taken the magazine with them.

Another retrospective issue, including prose and fiction, will be published in the fall.

RECRUITS SOUGHT

For Princeton Guard Unit. The National Guard's 50th Finance Company, headquartered at the Princeton Armory on River Road, will continue its recruitment program for men and women through the summer. Sergeants George Cain and Bill Capella will be fulltime recruiters through June 9 and other teams will continue the campaign after that.

To qualify for enlistment an individual must be between the ages of 17 and 40, have an interest in finance, and pass a physical examination. A familiarity with business or payroll operations is desirable but not demanded. Prior military service is not a prerequisite.

Average pay in the Finance Company ranges from $60 to $90 per weekend. Other benefits available to Guardsmen and Guardswomen include low-cost life insurance, retirement benefits, training programs, and PX and Commissary privileges for the individual and dependents.

To arrange an interview phone the Armory, 924-2062, or write to the Finance Company recruiter, Princeton National Guard Armory, River Road, Princeton.

4-H SUPPER PLANNED

This Saturday. The Mercer County 4-H Midlanders will serve a spaghetti supper this Saturday from 5 to 8 in the education building of the Titusville Methodist Church, Route 29.

Tickets are $2.50 for adults and $1 for children and may be purchased at the door. Proceeds will send 4-H members to a citizenship course in Washington, D.C., where they will be able to study their government in person.

MONTGOMERY

BLACKSMITH'S SHOP

Some say it used to be a blacksmith shop way back in colonial days when you needed a horse to get to Princeton. We see it now as a potentially lovely true historic colonial right in the village of Rocky Hill. Wide plank floors predominate from the front living room to the kitchen wing, where an old fireplace brought warmth to many a breakfast. Upstairs are three colonial bedrooms with built-ins, a small dressing room, and full bath. Undoubtedly, a great house to restore to its original colonial charm. $47,000

Countryside Retreat

Tucked away in the Montgomery countryside is a neat little cottage which has just been listed for sale. The kitchen is an absolute dream, almost newer than new and set up for counter entertaining. The living room is tastefully paneled and delightful as a conversation area. Downstairs there are also two comfortable bedrooms and a full bath. Upstairs is extra storage space and a children's hideaway. Great for retirement or for the young couple starting out. Beautiful grounds in a friendly neighborhood. $47,500

At the Foot of the Mountain

Don't move to another township until you've seen what this new custom built colonial split home has to offer in Montgomery: elegant slate foyer, raised living room with a view, eat-in kitchen, separate den, family room with massive fireplace, and four comfortable bedrooms. An excellent buy on 2½ acres. $66,900

Near the Country Club

Just a couple of woods from the Country Club and golf course is a substantial new two story colonial that will turn you on to living in Montgomery. Both the living room and study have views of the rolling countryside while the eat-in kitchen and family room open out onto one of Montgomery's friendly neighborhoods. $68,900

PRINCETON

Walk to the Football Stadium

Western Way, Southern Way-Which ever way you come you'll find a carefree child-filled neighborhood surrounding this three bedroom two-story colonial in Princeton's eastern section. A short walk to Jadwin, a few blocks to the Lake, within walking distance of school and road no more. Call us for an appointment. $59,500

At Home Near the Woods

At home in Princeton near the woods and in a very friendly neighborhood where all the kids play down at the brook and bicycle down to Community Park pool, is our newest Princeton listing. A Colonial split level with quality construction evident throughout. A cozy fireplace in the living room, a family room just a few steps away from the kitchen, a large screened in summer veranda, and an extra large fourth bedroom or playroom at the top of the house are just a few of the extras you can look forward to. Our latest exclusive in this neighborhood sold quite quickly, so call us immediately if you're interested. $69,000

DUTCH COLONIAL DOLLHOUSE

Our newest listing in West Windsor is a lovely Dutch Colonial Dollhouse situated on almost an acre of wooded privacy within walking distance of the Princeton Junction station. The living room leads through french doors to a formal dining room, and modern kitchen with friendly breakfast alcove and pantry. Upstairs are three comfortable bedrooms and a full bath. Redecorated throughout including beautiful stained hardwood floors. Outside the yard is loaded with plenty of huge old maples and oaks, many flowering bushes and even a strawberry patch. An unusually attractive home at $53,000

NEAR BRIDGEPOINT MILLPOND

In Montgomery is a superbly built centerhall colonial situated on a beautifully maintained corner lot. The keynote is spaciousness from the expansive formal living room to the rustic family room with logs burning in the massive fireplace. Upstairs, is a great master bedroom suite and three other comfortable sleeping quarters. There are closets galore, lots of luxurious carpeting, and a lot of fine country living to be done in this refreshing new Montgomery neighborhood. $78,500

Bring Your Golf Clubs Along

When you come to see our newest Montgomery listing near Pike Brook Country Club. As you enter the elegant foyer you'll notice that spacious easy living is evident throughout from the enormous front to back living room to the rustic sunken family room with massive fireplace. The modern tastefully appointed kitchen has french doors to an outside deck and convenient access to an elegant dining room. Upstairs, are four comfortable bedrooms including a spacious master suite. Beautifully laid out and custom crafted by the Brown brothers, which means excellent construction. If you'll just bring your clubs you're liable to stay for good. $79,900

Overlooking the Valley

Custom-created for you to enjoy the hills and view the valley this elegantly appointed four bedroom colonial offers a very special place to dream. Two beautiful bay windows accentuate a floorplan that features an elegant slate foyer, large living room, family room with log-burning fireplace, separate study and country sunshine in a majestic setting. $82,900

Contemporary Bedens Brook Villa

Just a few minutes from downtown Princeton yet hidden away in a private country setting overlooking Bedens Brook is a delightfully landscaped contemporary villa where communion with nature is the keynote. The creatively designed floor plan is centered on a magnificent huge indoor atrium-greenhouse where a heated pool, fig trees, palms and even a blooming bird of paradise set the stage for a wonderful tropical vacation all year long. Opening on to this marvelous scene is a plush living room with fireplace, elegant dining room, family room with fireplace, eat-in kitchen and master suite with separate dressing areas and baths. There are 4 or 5 bedrooms in all and an enormous three car garage. A wonderful home in a delightful setting for some very important person.

During the last ten years, over 100,000 American men violated draft and military laws because they opposed the war in Vietnam. Americans for Amnesty is working for complete and unconditional amnesty for these men. Are you one of those in need of amnesty? Do you have a son, a friend, or a husband who would benefit from amnesty? If so, the Mercer County Chapter of Americans for Amnesty would like to hear from you. All correspondence confidential. You need not reveal your name or address. Contact Princeton Peace Center, 163 Nassau St. Princeton NJ 08540, (609) 924-6161, or call June Carr at (609) 737-3466. 5-23-21

PENN VIEW HEIGHTS

Charming Scholz-design ranch-house on a pretty lot a short walk from Pennington. Seven rooms, 2½ baths, fireplace, central air conditioning, full basement, 2-car garage, and many additional extras. $69,900

LAWRENCEVILLE

A most attractive country lot is the setting for this handsome Colonial on a low-traffic road close to Lawrenceville. The house has seven rooms, 1½ baths, and includes a fireplace and central air conditioning. $64,500

SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

Indeed, this is a home that the entire family will enjoy. Situated on a quiet Lawrence Township street within walking distance of schools, the lot is nicely treed and landscaped. The house, of 2-story Colonial design, has 8 rooms, 2½ baths, fireplace in both the living and family rooms, central air conditioning, basement, and one-car garage. $64,900

THE GEOMETRIC APPROACH

Nearly new Colonial split-level is situated at the end of a cul-de-sac in Montgomery Township. From there it's just two right angles and biking distance to both the elementary and high schools. Eight rooms, 2½ baths, and 2-car garage, on a one-acre lot. $65,000

COZY & CONVENIENT

In Princeton Township, on a low-traffic street within walking distance of the University, is a 25-year old 2-story home with 6 rooms, 1½ baths, fireplace, basement, one-car garage, and an easy-to-maintain lot measuring about 65x90'. $59,500

NASSAU STREET

Also a short walk from the University is this impressive 2½-story dwelling, containing two large apartments, one with 10 rooms and bath, the other with 5 rooms and bath. Situated on Nassau Street in Princeton Borough. $127,500

ELM RIDGE PARK

Picture-perfect Colonial has 8 rooms, 2½ baths, 2 fireplaces, central air conditioning, full basement, 2-car garage, and quality details throughout. Appropriately enough, it has a magnificent vista of Honey Lake $112,000

SHADY BROOK

On a Princeton Township lot of almost one acre is a fine Colonial split-level with 9 rooms (5 bedrooms), 2½ baths, fireplace, central air conditioning, basement, 2-car garage, and many other extras. $83,000

BROOKSTONE

A warm sense of space, both inside and out, accompanies this Princeton Township ranch-house. Ten rooms (6 bedrooms), 3 full and 2 half baths, 2 fireplace, central air conditioning, screened porch, and 3-car garage. $125,000

CONSIDER THE POSSIBILITIES

Three older, single-family houses on almost 20 acres in Princeton Township. The dwellings are currently rented and provide either an income or a chance for someone with imagination to give them some real charm... $200,000

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP BUILDING LOT

Attractive wooded lot in the Shady Brook area. $22,500

INVESTORS

Anyone looking for an investment opportunity might do well to consider either or both of these properties situated on the main street of Hopewell Borough. The first floor of each is retail commercial space; the second floor is residential. Fine potential for appreciation. They are priced at $68,500 and $89,500 but for complete information, give us a call.

OUR 59TH YEAR OF PROFESSIONAL SERVICE—CONSULT OUR EXPERT REAL ESTATE COUNSELLORS

EIGHTEENTH CENTURY MANOR HOUSE with 1½ to 2 foot thick stone and stucco walls. Loaded with charm and Revolutionary period history. Imagine those darkest days of the Revolution when General Washington discussed strategy here. Imagine the music and laughter when the Marquis de Lafayette danced with the local belles on these random width floor boards. Imagine yourself descending the large open stairwell to greet your guests in this gracious home so perfect for entertaining. We'll be proud to show you this home by advance appointment only.

FROM THE GROUND UP, THIS COLONIAL HOME HAS VALUE. Starting with a poured concrete foundation, right up through the entrance foyer, the large living room, formal dining room, family room, eat-in kitchen, 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths, it's quality built for you to enjoy. Just listed at $63,500

COMMUTER PARKING A PROBLEM FOR YOU? Walk to the train from this 4 bedroom West Windsor home. You'll like the many custom touches of these proud first owners, the freedom from maintenance of the natural cedar shakes, the 2-car garage to leave your car home in. Your opportunity at $62,900

CUSTOM BUILT BRICK RANCH on a partially wooded well landscaped lot, offers entry foyer, large living room with fireplace, formal dining room, eat-in kitchen with washer and dryer space, 3 oversized bedrooms and 2 full baths. 2-car attached garage. Early occupancy at $59,900

PREFER A NEW HOME? Phone and give us your needs. We offer a range from low 40's to high 80's. Our helpful polite, professional associates will be glad to aid in your selection.

OVER ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO, our hardworking ancestors built this stately Victorian home. Their handiwork can still be admired in the original parquet floors, the moulded ceilings, the mahogany balustrade in the center hall. Now, as the new owner, with imagination and pride, you can complete the job of restoration and have a fine showplace of a home. Your opportunity at $43,500

WANT MORE HOUSE WITH LESS DOWN PAYMENT? Owner will consider financing for qualified buyer. The home is a 3 bedroom ranch, quality built and nicely maintained in Penns Neck. It offers living room with fireplace, panelled kitchen, family room with wet bar. It's on a lovely half acre lot with dog run, and it's offered at $62,500

SEARCHING FOR A 5 BEDROOM COLONIAL? LIKE A WOODED LOT? INSIST ON CENTRAL AIR AND FIREPLACE? Your search is over. We have a beautiful garrison colonial for you. A young better than new home offered for the first time. There's even a second family room and sixth bedroom in the finished basement. We're proud to show this at $92,500

NEARLY TEN COUNTRY ACRES with towering oak trees. Owner will help finance for qualified buyer. $22,500

Gold Medallion Total Electric Living

How do you measure the true value of a house?

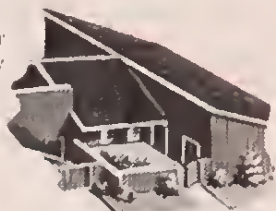

Is cost per square foot important?

Look at it this way. Our cluster house gives you more actual living space and more modern living conveniences than some single homes. Now that's value. And that doesn't even include our basement, which at your leisure can be transformed into a recreation room, study or dark room. Or all of them.

Do you have a large entry court?

Our entry courts are large enough to hold a small party, and private enough to leave out your neighbors. You probably won't. But at least you have a choice.

Can you select a floor plan?

At Regent's Park we give you five different models to choose from. Choose one with two bedrooms and one bath. Or one with two bedrooms and two baths. Or with three bedrooms and two baths. One with a fireplace or without a fireplace. Choices and more choices. With any plan you choose, you'll get good one-floor traffic flow.

Is air conditioning an option?

Not at Regent's Park. It comes with your home—without an extra charge. Our Cluster Homes come complete with self-cleaning range and range hood. A huge refrigerator-freezer, dishwasher and disposal. You get the best of everything. Right down to sparkling ceramic tile in the bathroom.

Is the neighborhood as nice as the house?

Regent's Park is pretty enough to make your heart sing. Lots of open space everywhere. A lighted bicycle path and play area for the kids. A planned pool. And something a lot of communities don't have—the quaint shops of Mount Holly only 4 blocks away. And large shopping centers and good schools within walking distance.

The cluster house. It measures up and beyond.

Sketches of 9 Congressional Candidates in Tuesday's Primaries

REPUBLICANS

Thomas H. Kean, of Livingston, has been in the State Assembly since 1968, was chosen Speaker in the last session and currently serves as minority leader. In the Assembly, he has been on the Institutions and Welfare Committee and has been chairman of the Ethics Committee and the Education Committee. At present, he is a member of the Energy Crisis Study Commission, the Legislative Services Commission, the Agriculture and Environmental Committee and the Ethical Standards Commission.

The candidate has the strong endorsement of state environmentalists and the New Jersey Environmental Voters Alliance, an organization that has rated state legislators on 1973-73 voting records. The EVA tallies Mr. Kean's voting score as 94 out of 100, the only legislator with a score above 90.

In Princeton, he has the support of former Borough Mayor Henry S. Patterson and Mrs. Diane Graves, chairman of the EVA.

Acknowledging that "this is no ordinary election year," Mr. Kean declared in the opening statement of his campaign that voters are tired and angry at fuel scarcity and inflation and "more importantly, are angry at government institutions in which they have no confidence and politicians in whom they have no trust."

Inefficiency Challenged. Mr. Kean says that, as a legislator, he's become aware of how much New Jersey's fate is controlled in Washington, and "how few responsibilities the Federal government fulfills. Congress is a frighteningly inefficient and ineffective institution, unable to come to grips with the problems which face our nation."

As taxpayers, Mr. Kean has estimated, New Jersey residents pay out $1.50 in taxes for every dollar received in assistance from Washington. "Our relative tax burden exceeds that of virtually every other state. I believe we need to change this unfair and inequitable situation."

In regard to Watergate, the candidate declares that "Republicans should not stand around and observe the effort to restore public trust in government: we must lead the effort."

A trustee and former director of a camp for disadvantaged children, Mr. Kean has served on the President's Council on Youth and the Commission to Review Higher Education. He has served with the Epilepsy Foundation of America, the Easter Seal Drive and the Leukemia Society, for which he is board member of the New Jersey chapter.

For three years he was as teacher of history and government. He is currently president of the Realty Transfer Company, Elizabeth.

works out best. For example, high-rise public housing for low-income people is no good at all for families, yet these structures continue to be built. How things work out for PEOPLE is the important thing."

Mrs. Fenwick would exempt from income taxation all savings account interest for people earning $15,000 a year or less. She believes that those with an income of $75,000 or $100,000 should pay income-tax and regards it as "unconscionable" that a worker who makes $84 a week should take home only $63, paying the same proportion for Social Security as an employee earning much more.

The candidate was elected manufacturers' practices which, she charges, "squeeze the retailer, the small store-owner, between regulations and a manufacturer who doesn't live up to his promises on pricing, or other matters.

Mandatory, across-the-board protection for home-buyers against shoddy construction in new homes is a necessity, she believes.

Mrs. Fenwick cites her age (64) as "my greatest drawback" but declares that she was never absent in her three years in the Assembly, and still has what she calls "an elastic mind." Senator H. Alexander Smith, she has discovered, was also 64 when he was first elected to the Senate.

Charles E. Humiston of Bernardsville, is seeking the Republican nomination but he is not in the regular organization Republican column on the primary ballot. This only reflects the fact that he did not approach anyone in the Republican organization to request a place in the regular column. He might be called a "semi-independent."

Retired from the field of marketing research, Mr. Humiston has studied at Dartmouth and the graduate school of Columbia University.

To questions posed by the League of Women Voters on energy and the environment, he declared that fossil fuel exploration should be nationalized, thereby doing away with the need for oil depletion allowances. The government would then sell fuels to oil companies for refining and selling on a competitive basis. This area, he stated, "should be removed from the private province of the oil companies."

"If subsidies are needed to keep commuter railroads rolling and if they are properly controlled, the government should step in," the candidate believes, in regard to Federal funding of mass transportation. "Commuter jobs generate other jobs and thus affect us all," he has observed.

Mr. Humiston favors public financing of election campaigns, and does not believe that executive impoundment of funds is in line with the separation of powers as set forth in the Constitution.

Gertrude Dubrovsky, a resident of Princeton, is running for the Democratic nomination as a feminist and a strong believer in open primaries and open party government.

"With the economic turmoil we are now experiencing," she believes, "women are in real danger of being the first fired and the last hired. Nearly half our women work, and they work because their incomes are necessary to support themselves and-or their families. We must be on guard to guarantee their employment rights."

Ms. Dubrovsky points to discriminations in the Social Security system against married women, who do not collect in full on their investment, and in pension plans based on continuous years of service, when the work years of many women are interrupted.

Quality day-care centers, so that women with young children could get either job experience or professional training during their early years, are essential, the candidate believes.

However, the candidate emphasizes that she does not

Primary Voting Procedure Explained

In primary elections next Tuesday, June 4, New Jersey voters will choose the two candidates who will run against each other in the fall for the seat in Congress assigned to New Jersey's Fifth Congressional District.

Polling places for Borough and Township are listed in a box on page 2B. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The Fifth District, a relatively new affiliation for the two Princetons, West Windsor and Montgomery, extends in an elongated strip from West Windsor on the south all the way to Mountain Lakes (beyond Morristown) in the north. It includes Bernardsville, Parsippany-Troy Hills, Milburn, Chatham, Somerville, Watkinsburg, Bound Brook, Rocky Hill and Cranbury; that means parts of Mercer, Morris and Essex Counties and all of Somerset.

The League of Women Voters reminds voters that rules for voting in primary elections have changed in the past two

Under present law, New Jersey voters may vote in either party in the primary, regardless of past voting record or party affiliation. You merely state your choice before voting on primary election day, when you sign at your election district. (The absentee ballot sent to each applicant contains slates for both parties; the voter may fill out the ballot for either party, but only one.)

There has been confusion on two points. First, you may vote in only one party. Second, you must declare party choice before casting your ballot on primary day and this choice becomes part of the public record.

No longer must you abstain from voting in two consecutive primary elections in order to change your party affiliation. Furthermore, you are not required to make a formal declaration of change in party affiliation before going to the polling place.

Millicent Fenwick, Bernardsville. Asked how her views differ from those of her chief Republican opponent, Thomas Kean, Mrs. Fenwick suggests that she is more concerned with results and with the effect of governmental actions on people, whereas Mr. Kean is perhaps more concerned with structure.

"The point of government is the people," she says. "Theory's only value is how it to the New Jersey Assembly in 1969 and re-elected in 1971. She was chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Child Abuse and sponsored the Flood Plains Protection Act. She also sponsored the Industrial Pollution Control Act, designed to retain industries and jobs in the state, an act to enlarge employment opportunity for the handicapped and an amendment against sex discrimination.

She served as New Jersey's Director of Consumer Affairs for both the Cahill and Byrne administrations, resigning that post April 5, 1974 when she decided to run for Congress.

Carrying her consumer interests to the Federal level, she believes in Federal regulations requiring drained-weight, not net weight, on canned foods. "This is a MUST for low-income families worried about which product is the best buy," she declares. She would also examine

There's a way to determine the health and condition of your hair. That's through Hair Analysis. It's like giving your hair a physical check-up.

Samples of your hair are taken and tested on a sensitive instrument called a Tricho Gram Scale. This evaluates the tensile strength and elasticity of your hair. Then a photomicrograph is taken from which the internal structure of the hair is visible.

All of this information is examined by a trained hair analyst who diagnoses your hair problem and prescribes a corrective program.

If you suspect that you have "sick" hair, shouldn't you make plans to give it a checkup? Call for your Hair Analysis appointment today.

see feminist issues as opposed to masculine issues: "I see them as human issues. Feminism can be a liberating experience for both men and women."

Castigating her Democratic opponent Frederick Bohen for "A Watergate-type trick," Ms. Dubrovsky declares that a list of feminist supporters distributed by the Bohen organization bore the name of her own press secretary. It was an advertisement from Town Topics in 1972, and Ms. Dubrovsky charges "he is passing this out as a current piece of literature, implying that these women are supporting him now." She has characterized this as "sickening."

In another charge levelled at her opponent, she has declared "the primary is rigged!" pointing to an April 7 press release from the Bohen office calling for an open primary. The same release, she declares, bears the signature of Orlando Abbruzzese, Democratic chairman of Somerset County, who is quoted as saying that the Democratic party in Somerset "is united in its support of Bohen as our party's nominee."

"This endorsement of Bohen on April 7, well before the April 15 filing date and before Abbruzzese had acquainted himself with the other candidates, is contrary to the intent of the election law."

She has also pointed out that the Princeton Community Democratic Organization invited Congressional primary candidates to speak, "but first informed their members that the board had decided to endorse Fred Bohen."

She questions the willingness of the Democratic Party "to listen to the views of its own dissidents and mavericks," and asks whether the party hopes to "ride to easy election victories by complacently blaming the Republicans ... without considering the shortcomings of their own party?"

WANT EXTRA INCOME? A temporary or part-time job may be the answer. Read the Help Wanted ads in this issue of TOWN TOPICS for a varied selection of opportunities open to you.

Nina McCall is running for the Democratic nomination. A resident of Mountain Lakes in the northernmost part of the Fifth Congressional District, she recently dramatized the lack of mass transportation by attempting to traverse the whole Fifth by public transportation, from Mountain Lakes to Princeton and West Windsor.

"It can't be done," she finally declared. "I have long maintained that the Federal Government should be using the Highway Trust Fund to lead in the establishment of rational transportation systems."

Mrs. McCall has served for three years as state president of the League of Women Voters. She personally organized a drive that registered over 11,000 new voters in one city, and led the League's lobby in Trenton for a strong campaign finance law.

She has stated that "too much money is spent on political campaigns," and she favors reforms that set limits on both the amount spent and the length of campaigns. She also favors voluntary contributions through the income-tax check-off system.

In another area of reform, Mrs. McCall likes the idea of a negative income tax. "I believe money is better invested in people than spent on programs." Tax reforms to eliminate tax loopholes that allow people with large incomes to pay no taxes or "ridiculously low" taxes, are essential, she believes.

An opponent of the Tocks Island dam, the candidate says "We should give more attention to alternatives, such as re-cycling water, instead of using up all our rivers."

In other environmental matters, Mrs. McCall "will fight the President's proposal to destroy the effectiveness of the Clean Air Act," and would like to see Federal effort focused more sharply on obtaining accurate data on energy supplies. She favors measures that would reduce the excess profits of oil companies.

A national health program with the accent on prevention of illness finds favor with Mrs. McCall. "The Kennedy-Mills bill is an improvement over what we have now," she has stated, "but it does not go far enough. An average family would still have to spend $500-$200 as its share of premiums, and $300 deductible before any adult member would be eligible for benefits."

She also opposes the increased role of private insurance companies under the Nixon Administration health proposal. "Lack of regulation of insurance company payments previously, has greatly increased the cost of medical care," she believes.

Frederick Bohen is a Princeton resident who ran unsuccessfully two years ago as Democratic candidate for the Fifth Congressional District seat. His field is public affairs television, and he has most recently been an executive with the Ford Foundation.

Responding to the attack of opponent Paul J. Krebs, Mr. Bohen characterized Mr. Krebs' remarks as "completely erroneous and outrageous ... exactly the kind of campaigning people are fed up to the gills with."

He did not ever recommend Mr. McCone to a position as board member of the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, he declares. Mr. Krebs' source, Mr. Bohen says, "was a staff paper that never had any standing or my support."

Mr. Bohen quotes a letter from Fred W. Friendly, advisor on broadcasting to the Ford Foundation, and a former CBS president, characterizing Mr. Bohen as "respected for bringing an unbiased, searching intelligence to the high editorial positions he has held. His qualities of fairness and personal integrity stand high."

To Mr. Krebs' charges that he resigned from the Johnson Administration "in disgust," he declares that, rather, he resigned "in despair over the conflict in Vietnam," and he has released a copy of his letter of resignation.

Adding charges of his own, Mr. Bohen declares that materials on which Mr. Krebs based his attack were "stolen" from the Bohen office in 1969. Warned by Mr. Bohen that the papers were stolen, "Mr. Krebs has gone ahead anyway, demonstrating ... that his consuming political ambitions override any sense of justice or fairness."

Mr. Bohen believes unemployment justifies tax relief and declares he is the only Democratic candidate favoring a tax cut. He proposes a limited-term (one or two year) cut in tax rates on individual incomes and a somewhat smaller reduction in government spending to "stimulate the sagging economy."

In another area of tax relief, he supports a plan which would allow taxpayers to deduct from their income taxes the cost of riding public transportation. Federal funds should be applied to transportation operating expenses and capital investment on a formula recognizing density of population, thus "ensuring New Jersey a fair share."

Mr. Bohen has spoken strongly in favor of public financing of election campaigns, including primaries, limiting individual contributions to $250 and groups to $500.

He supports reformed on Congressional procedures, realigning committees and opening Congressional proceedings. "It is imperative," he has declared, "that Democrats lead the effort to modernize the unbalanced and obsolete committee system that has persisted for nearly three decades." Congress needs reforms and a blood transfusion.

Neighborhood day-care centers, and "maintenance of choice for women concerning childbirth," have his support. He sees comprehensive national health insurance as "an urgent social need."

Internationally, Mr. Bohen opposes "rising protectionist sentiment," would trim the defense budget but "would vote consistently to sustain the military power and economic assistance that assures Israel's survival" and sustains the U.S.-U.S.S.R. balance of power.

John Lynch, Morristown lawyer, is a candidate in the Democratic primary, reminding voters that he is the youngest candidate (34) in an office where ability to gain seniority can be an important factor. His practice has concerned Federal laws on anti-pollution, high way safety, securities regulations and railroad bankruptcy. He is also an engineer.

In his campaign, he has offered support of "continuing, strong environmental legislation," but adds that "not every environmental bill deserves rigid support. He would like to see 'rational evaluation' of any piece of legislation whether or not it carries 'the self-sanctifying environmentalist label.'"

Mr. Lynch has declared that he would vote against any attempt to delay the 1970 Clean Air Act, but would vote to relax a Federal regulation that would reduce automobile use by 68 percent by mid-1977 or face rationing. Such a "stopgap," he believes, would adversely affect the Fifth Congressional District, where 155,000 people get to work by car, and where "four bankrupt railroads now carry fewer than 20,000 people."

On the labor scene, Mr. Lynch calls for Federal action on the migrant labor problem. He applauds extension of the minimum wage and occupational safety laws to migrants, and urges extension of the National Labor Relations Act to cover migrants, as the next step.

"Sustained urban revitalization programs would be appropriate job generators to help solve New Jersey's 7 percent unemployment problem," he believes, but he doesn't think that the usual Federal monetary, or "employer-of-last-resort" solutions give enough benefit to justify any inflationary effect they might have.

Federally-funded mass transit is necessary for the cities, but wouldn't solve much for the Fifth District. "How many Federal billions can we responsibly spend to have a bus waiting on the corner" of each Fifth District community? he asks.

The candidate has pledged opposition to the Navy's missile submarine program, the Air Force missile program and other Pentagon proposals, such as nerve gas research.

A former Navy officer and Annapolis graduate, he has scored the military for excessive spending. "I have a taxpayer's belief and an insider's knowledge," he has declared, "that we can defend ourselves just as well for less."

Asked to comment on impeachment, Mr. Lynch believes "this is a question that should not be answered in a political forum...Congressional candidates should not make a political promise about how they will vote on impeachment."

Paul J. Krebs, Livingston resident, was Democratic Congressman in the mid-60's for the former 12th District, and unsuccessful Democratic Senatorial candidate in 1972 against Clifford P. Case. He was elected president of the New Jersey CIO in 1954, and president of the United Auto Workers Council in 1960. Mr. Krebs was New Jersey's first Consumer Affairs Director.

He strongly supports controls on prices, wages and profits, and believes that unless such controls are imposed, "the United States could soon be face-to-face with economic disaster." Action is needed now, he has declared, "to prevent further damage to the poor, the un-employed, the elderly and the middle class, before it is too late."

Mr. Krebs has criticized President Nixon for predicting that 1974 will be a "good year," and said that "millions of poor people and unemployed people around the country would find it very difficult to accept the idea that 1974 is a 'good year.'"

The candidate has accused his Democratic primary opponent, Fred Bohen, of "adopting the guise of pseudo-liberalism...pretending to be something the facts do not support."

Mr. Krebs charges that Mr. Bohen, as a public broadcast executive, cancelled a broadcast in January 1969, which was critical of President Lyndon B. Johnson in regard to "the handout of defense contracts to a Texas firm." He charges, further, that Mr. Bohen approved firing a TV producer who wanted to broadcast a program generally favorable to the Allende government in Chile.

"Personally, I do not believe any liberal would have proposed John McCone, former CIA head, as a suitable member of the board of Public Television Broadcasting," he has stated, "but Fred Bohen made that proposal."

Concerning unemployment in New Jersey, Mr. Krebs points to a current New Jersey suit against the Federal government charging that the way the unemployment rate is calculated, discriminates against the state in the distribution of public funds. Short-range, he recommends a public employment program; long-range, he proposes legislation to "discourage movement of jobs from America to foreign countries," and reduction of tax advantages to American firms engaged in this practice.

Turning to mass transportation problems, Mr. Krebs has declared that money might be used from the Highway Trust Fund to keep railroads operating, and even provide for their expansion. "Clean, efficient train service is preferable to more cars on already-over-burdened highways."

Short-term solutions include aid to commuter rail lines that serve so many Fifth District workers, he believes. Long-term, he proposes development of a comprehensive system of public mass transportation involving the entire metropolitan complex.

Herbert Koransky, a resident of Belle Mead, is a lawyer practicing in Somerville and a candidate for nomination on the Democratic ticket.

To symbolize his belief that, "if Congress doesn't control fuel prices, we'll all be riding donkeys," the candidate rode a donkey in front of the state house in Trenton when he filed his petition to run for Congress.

He has proposed immediate price control and rationing, with stamps for fuel and staples such as dairy products, meat and wheat products.

"Unless we wish to continue to be legally robbed by the food and fuel profiteers, there is no alternative to controls of prices and rationing of amount," he has declared.

Without this, Mr. Koransky believes, "those who control production and consumption will skyrocket prices beyond anything we can imagine. Shortages will become worse and this will create chaos here and abroad, setting the stage for civil rebellions and wars. When people don't have food for themselves and their families, they will fight to get it."

Declaring that "great injustices are constantly going on against the people," Mr. Koransky lists high rents and taxes which are causing many elderly to lose their homes; ever-spiralling food costs; income-tax loopholes "for the very rich which are created by the rich and perpetrated by them through rich politicians."

A "massive program devoted to mass transit expansion" on the part of the federal government, is favored by this candidate, who continues, "With proper fiscal management, this can be made self-sufficient and in addition would be a stimulus to the economy and provide additional jobs."

Mr. Koransky supports public financing of all campaigns, with private contributions limited to $10 from any person or organization.

A program of Federally-supported mass transit plus a "large long-range program devoted to housing for people on fixed incomes," would help alleviate New Jersey's unemployment rate (it is 7 percent, compared to a national rate of 5.2 percent.)

As a lawyer, Mr. Koransky has served as public defender and municipal prosecutor. He was formerly state director of workmen's compensation.

MANAGER NAMED

For McCarter, Edward A. Martenson, a 1971 graduate of Princeton University, has been named General Manager of McCarter Theatre, effective July 1. Michael Kahn, producing director of the McCarter Theatre Company, announced the appointment this week.

Mr. Martenson's duties will include general responsibility for McCarter's administrative activities, including budget and fund-raising. He has been on the McCarter staff since 1972 and in 1973 was appointed Administrative Assistant to the Committee on Theatre by its chairman, Daniel Seltzer. During the past season, Mr. Martenson has served as a trustee of the McCarter Theatre Company, Inc.

A native of Alexandria, Virginia, Mr. Martenson was graduated from the University in music. As an undergraduate, he was in the first credit course for practical theatre work, serving as production manager for the "Henry IV, Part I" directed by Professor Seltzer. After graduation, he worked as assistant to the Assistant Director for Dormitory and Food Services at the University.

SUMMER CLASSES

At Ballet Society. Gasoline shortages and ballet seem far apart in human experience but the Princeton Ballet Society has decided to combine them and offer a shortage-inspired series of summer classes for mothers and children, kindergarten through second grade.

Classes will be held separately, but at the same time so that only one trip to the 262 Alexander Street studios will be necessary. The schedule calls for classes Tuesday and/or Thursday mornings. The classes may be taken separately, without a participating mother or child.

All Ballet Society summer classes will run from June 13 through July 25. The ballet faculty will consist of David Anderson, guest teacher, who has been soloist with the San Francisco Ballet, the Radio City Music Hall Ballet and various ABC-TV specials; Judith Leviton, former member of both Metropolitan Opera Ballet and American Ballet Theatre; Maxine Lampert, former leading dancer with the Princeton Regional Ballet and Christina Klotz, formerly with the Cincinnati Ballet Company.

Merry Lynn Katis, dancer and Broadway choreographer, will teach jazz and Larry Cleck, of the Viola Farber Dance Company in New York, will teach modern dance.

Complete schedules and fee information is available from the Society at 921-7758 between 3:30 and 5 Monday through Friday. Mail requests should be addressed to P.O. Box 171, Princeton.

TRIO IN CONCERT

Next Thursday, The Friends of Music will present Ann Sease-Monoyios, soprano; James Winn, flutist, and Robert Moreen, harpsichordist, in a concert of works by J.S. Bach and Telemann, on Thursday, June 6, at 8:30 in the Woolworth Center. The concert is free and open to the public.

All three are well known to Princeton audiences, having appeared together and in solo performances on a number of occasions. Ann Sease-Monoyios is a graduate student at Princeton and a member of the Glee Club and Musica Alta.

Robert Moreen is a third-year graduate student in music and director of Musica Alta, a Renaissance performance group and Assistant Conductor of the Glee Club. James Winn, a graduate of Princeton, recently received his Ph.D. in English from Yale. He has played flute with the Princeton University Orchestra, the Norfolk Symphony and was winner of several concerto competitions.

Four One-Acters on Players' Current Bill Provide Pleasant Evening of Entertainment

Try to catch The Princeton Community Players as they continue their run of Robert Anderson's "You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running" this Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Curtain-time at the Unitarian Church is 8:30.

The collection of four short plays is billed as "hilarious comedy." More accurately, it is a conglomeration of humor, pathos, and reverie, with only moments of hilarity. All four deal with the inability to "hear" and with the lost desire to "listen" even when one does "hear."

The quartet opens with "The Shock of Recognition," a talky, dull exchange between a female producer (Joanne Mohrman) and a male playwright (Norm Friedman) discussing his newly-written play, "You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running." Each proselytizes his own viewpoint about on-stage male nudity, but neither really "hears" the other.

Then, in dances a little-known actor (Allan Pierce), describing himself as "the original, anonymous man." The play comes alive and the audience bursts into sustained laughter and applause.

Double or Twin. The second play, "Footsteps of Doves," concerns a middle-aged husband and wife contemplating a change from their cozy double bed to more practical twin beds. Joyce Wacks is adequate as Harriet with a sore back, but it is Loyal Watterworth as George who evokes grins and laughter from the audience with the raise of an eyebrow or the leer on his face.

Again there is a communications gap as one says to the other, "You hear me, but you're not listening." And again, as in the first play, the tempo speeds up and real communication begins when a third party, an attractive young woman (Rita Rofe) who shares George's fondness for double beds, appears on the scene.

Following intermission, "I'll Be Home for Christmas" has hardly a funny line in it, much less the "hilarious comedy" of the billing. Chuck (Lorin Zissman) and Edith (Rosemarie Arcieri) are discussing the sexual inclinations of their three teenagers, and, by inference, of themselves.

But as Edith admits very early, "I just don't listen any more." The couple are stereotypes of an "old-fashioned" husband and a "with it" wife who only rarely manage to gain our support and understanding, even when we truly "listen."

The final play, "I'm Herbert," is a real gem, the frosting on the cake, sending the audience home with an outer smile and an inner warmth. Ann Judson and Jeffrey Hall are perfect as two old-timers, Muriel and Herbert, ineptly remembering their lives as they move slowly in their rocking chairs, a la Carol Burnett and Harvey Korman.

The writing is lyrical and clever. The performances are loving and well-timed. Here the characters do hear each other...but not themselves.

Leo Cohen has done a capable job of directing such a mixed bag. With little to clutter the stage, and simple lighting, we are free to concentrate on hearing and listening, and are well rewarded with an entertaining evening at the theatre.

planned the production with the help of Tia Halpern, her stage manager; Jack Rome, who designed the scenery, and Peter Lopatin, who is production manager.

Chris Negus designed the lights, with Steve Ludlum executing lights and sound. Margy Levine heads costumes, Tonia Saxon is in charge of props and Liz Fischer and Corinne Colman are the publicity department. Adrienne Brockway, Chris Brown, Anita Fishbein, Anne Hazen, David Meyerhofer, Alan Mills and Lisa Schwartz are building the set. Drama Director Lawrence A. Mansier is supervising the whole production.

The comedy will be performed at Princeton High School with an 8 p.m. curtain. Admission is $1 for students, $1.50 for adults.

Two-Day Stand for Drama. Lesley Johnson and Gila Sand, play two sisters in the Paul Zindel drama, "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds." The play will be presented Monday and Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Princeton High School bandroom.

Directed by James Landi, director of the school musical "Anything Goes," the play also stars Georgine Freedman. The parts of Nanny and Janice Vickery are played by Jill Berkelhammer and Liz Bolick. B. Gordon Kansas designed the set.

Tickets may be purchased in advance in the high school cafeteria or may be reserved by calling Mrs. Marge Borkovich at 924-5600. There will be no tickets sold at the door because of the small number of seats available.

"CUCKOO'S NEST"

Opener, at Bucks County. The theatre across the river -- the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope, will begin its 35th summer season Monday, June 10, with "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," a play based on Ken Kesey's novel. Dale Wasserman is the playwright.

Like the novel, the play is laid in a mental asylum where the anti-establishment hero engages in a battle of more than wits with the bureaucratic structure. It is a play both comic and touching. Subsequent offerings at Bucks County will be "The Mind with the Dirty Man" (June 24-July 6); "The Promise," by Aleksei Arbuzov (July 8-20); "The Prisoner of Second Avenue" (July 22-August 3); "The New Mt. Olive Motel" (August 5-17); and "That Championship Season" (August 19-31).

RECI TAL JUNE 8

For Kehoe Dance Pupils. The pupils of the Betty Kehoe School of Dance will present their 25th annual recital on Saturday, June 8, at the Princeton Day School Theater at 8:15 p.m.

Mrs. Kehoe continues to adhere to her policy of presenting all of her pupils in a demonstration of their progress, without charge. Each student performs in at least three numbers, many in four or five, displaying achievements in ballet, tap, modern jazz and acrobatics. The recital is based on themes which tie together all of the numbers. This year the first act is "Show Boat," the second act is a children's version of Coppelius. Debbie Pehta will have the leading role in the ballet with Lori Lehnert, Pamela Kovack and Rhonda Baker in featured parts.

DANCE THIS SUMMER

With Co-op. Classes in modern dance, ballet, body conditioning and mime will be offered by The Dance Co-op during a two-month summer session starting Monday, June 10 and ending August 16.

Co-operating with summer, the Co-op has a registration system geared to vacations. Students need not register for the entire term, but may instead buy a book of ten tickets for $25, admitting the buyer to any class. Schedules can be co-ordinated with vacation plans. Buyers may purchase as many ticket books as they wish.

Baby-sitting in the Co-op's nursery, downstairs from the studio, is available for all daytime classes at a nominal fee. Classes are held in the Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church Parish House, Quarry Street entrance.

This summer's faculty will consist of Anna Paskevaska of the Paris Opera Ballet and the Royal Ballet; Heidi Bunting, formerly with the Banff Festival Ballet and Abigail Ewert Kaplan, graduate of the Boston Conservatory of Music, and dancer with several modern dance companies in New York. The mime teacher will be announced shortly.

Additional information may be obtained from 201-359-6889 or 921-3461.

of Peter Maas's best-selling biography of Frank Serpico, the offbeat New York detective whose long and arduous attempts to expose police corruption eventually led to the Knapp Commission. The film is well written and marked by Al Pacino's brilliant, understated performance as Serpico.

While there is a good deal of action, the main focus of director Sidney Lumet is on Serpico's paradoxical offbeat character -- one which managed to mingle a deep-rooted commitment to policework with a bohemian life-style. There are insights into his family relationships, his casual love life and that of a deeper conflict-ridden relationship with another woman.

Lumet graphically and meticulously portrays the inch-by-inch transformation of Serpico's character from a sincere, wide-eyed rookie to a hardened, sour veteran and made a memorable film in the process. (Also showing at the Playhouse.)

"Save The Tiger" is an off-beat, perceptive study of a modern-day businessman getting ready to blow his top, which won for its star, Jack Lemmon, an academy award as best actor for 1973.

Lemmon is a pushy, ulcerous, nervously competitive self-employed manufacturer of not particularly original sports clothes. He has the jittery, determined drive of a man who is not doing what he wants to in life, knows it and mean to make up in speed what he lacks in motivation.

The film concentrates on day of crises ... the compromises that Lemmon makes and his solution to his financial troubles as he struggles in the dog-eat-dog world of the Los Angeles garment industry. It's a seamy existence, but most of the time, "Save The Tiger" is moving and involving.

Supercops. This is billed as the true story of two cops called Batman and Robin, but is really a minor league "Serpico."

Batman and Robin are two rookie cops -- in real life David Greenberg and Robert Hantz who have minor roles in the film -- that are portrayed by Ron Lieberman and David Selby. The film goes on in the now tried and true fashion to document their disenchantment with police hierarchy and routine and their eventual determination to bust the neighborhood pushers and break up drug rings on their own.

That what they are doing is in some cases a serious invasion of civil rights and

FOLK CONCERT BOOKED

At Mercer College June 8. "Bottle Hill," a bluegrass group, will appear in concert on Saturday, June 8, at 8 at Mercer County Community College Student Center. The concert is sponsored by the MCCC Alumni Association.

The group, formerly the "Bottle Hill Boys," was formed about two years ago when all five members were living in northern New Jersey. "Bottle Hill" has appeared at a number of concerts, colleges, coffeehouses and folk festivals, including the Garden State Bluegrass Festival, Fox Hollow, Midletown and Philadelphia Folk Festivals. They recently taped a special program for New Jersey Public Broadcasting on Channel 52.

The group's instrumentation includes guitar, banjo, mandolin, dobro and acoustic bass, as well as hammered dulcimer.

Admission is 50 cents for MCCC Alumni, students and staff, and $1 for the public. There are no advance ticket sales. For further information, contact Student Activities Office at Mercer County Community College, (609) 586-4800, Ext. 348.

BIG BAND SOUNDS

This Weekend at PHS. Jack Horner and his Princeton High School Stage Band will perform Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in the High School auditorium. Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Trumpet solos will be played by Molly Sherrick, Paul Shapiro and Steve Redfield. Tom Stange will be featured on the alto sax, Jack Rome on the French horn, and John Bruestle on trombone. There will be a battle of the drums between Charlie Roth and Eddie Eicher. Robert Davidson will play the guitar solos and conduct one of his original compositions. Lauren Sarne, the lead in this year's musical, "Anything Goes," is the featured band vocalist. She will sing "What Are You Doing the Rest of Your Life?" "My Funny Valentine," and "I Get a Kick Out of You."

individual privacy is overlooked by everyone since they are always right; those they catch are crooks so under the accepted Hollywood code they have no rights.

It's not-so-little things like that that put a nervous strain on the antics of Liebman and Selby as they run around the Bedford-Stuyvesant ghetto making their busts.

Naturally the police hierarchy also turns out to be laced with avarice, corruption, wholesale distrust, and petty jealousies. Another strike against the film is that it is surprisingly weak on action and its probing in the areas of corruption is heavy-handed.

It is strongest on incidental humor and "in" jokes -- the biggest is that the two real-life supercops in the film play the sort of don't-buck-the-system-and-take-what-ever-plain-envelopes-are-handed-to-you detectives they opposed in real life.

With all its shortcomings -- Liebman overacts -- Supercops doesn't come close to living up to its name.

PRINCE

Papillon Henri Charriere's best-selling autobiographical recounting of his attempts to escape from prison in French Guiana has been meticulously detailed in this $12 million film--too detailed.

Running two and one-half hours, the film is much too long. It has its moments--the multiple escape attempts are exciting in themselves--but what Papillon ultimately proves is that even the talents of a Steve McQueen and a Dustin Hoffman can be buried and even the most exciting adventure can become boring if it is too drawn out.

Both McQueen and Hoffman are excellent. Their relationship (Hoffman is a bookish and eccentric forger who is shipped to Guiana with McQueen, who plays Papillon) is brought into a clear emotional focus as a deep, manly caring that ultimately helps them survive.

McQueen escapes first when Hoffman is assaulted by a guard but he is brought back by bounty hunters for two years of agony in solitary confinement. He escapes again only to be recaptured and subjected to a five-year stint in solitary.

In fact, he is dragged back to the colony so many times that when he makes his final escape from "inescapable" Devil's Island, the audience may find it less than climatic.

What may stay with the viewer more than the dramatic escapes is the meticulous detail by director Franklin J. Schaffner of the inhuman conditions and brutality of prison life, the living death of solitary confinement and the relentless passage of time as bodies decay and minds wither.

Note: "The Great Gatsby" is still playing at the Prince, which has added a new theatre, so there are now two screens where there was one before.

SUMMER IS IN
At International Arrivals.
Summer is just about upon us, and International Arrivals at the Princeton Shopping Center has lots of accessories to make outdoor living easier and pleanter.

As a starter there is an excellent selection of coordinated paper plates, napkins, cups and tablecloths. Some of the patterns we saw included a red handana print, a green and white check bordered with yellow flowers, a bouquet of pansies and for a graduation party a print of diplomas and hats.

Hot weather always seems to bring on a shortage of glasses, and International Arrivals has tried to remedy this situation. Perfect for outdoor use are the red, green or blue dishwasher-safe plastic glasses, 8 for $6.50, and there are round trays to match.

However, if tennis is your game, why not a set decorated in gold and white with a net, balls and rackets, 8 for $12.
Another pretty set has a white picket fence trimmed with yellow and green flowers—six high-ball glasses and an ice bucket in a green metal cart costs $20, a matching pitcher is $11, and six stemmed glasses are $14.

Home-made Ice Cream.
Nothing tastes like homemade ice cream, and you can easily have it ready for dessert with Salton's electric ice cream maker. It uses less than a penny of electricity and comes in appropriate colors of vanilla or strawberry, $19.95.

This is also the season for plants, and International Arrivals has all the necessary extras. The planters range from plastic pots and saucers
in a choice of colors—tan, orange, yellow, green, red,
brown, white and even clear, $1.25 to $5—to a hanging pottery planter with a blue

FROM FREEZER TO OVEN: Holding Lauffer's updated version of that marvelous old-fashioned cast iron

Arrivals. These handsome black casseroles and pots each piece has been porcelainized for easy clean-ups. Prices start at $6.

and brown glaze, $13.95.

We also like the terra cotta half pot to be hung flush on the wall, $7.95; and Arabia's classic white or black perfectly symmetrical pot and saucer, 4 sizes starting at $6.
For neat and convenient gardening, try the heavy canvas apron with many pockets to hold tools or seeds.
It is gaily decorated in red and green with gardening tools and strawberries. Another helpful item is Freddie Frog—a watering device designed to soak a plant's roots, $4.50 a pair.

Although the store is filled with gift ideas we especially liked the cheese box filled with white Limoges plates, each one picturing a different cheese, $33.50; the Louisville stoneware casseroles in a blue carnflower pattern, approximately $17; and Laufler's stainless cutlery that can be sharpened and put in the dishwasher, $5 to $7.75.

One of the store's walls is extremely colorful with candles in all sizes, wrapping paper, ribbon, cards, and books. Much of the above comes from the Hallmark Company, including a book with pop-up pictures called "Snoopy's Secret Life" and a bumper sticker saying,
"Streakers Tan More Evenly."

Gale Critchlow, who is known to many Princeton area residents from her many years at the Gourmet Shop, has been manager of International Arrivals since December. The store will wrap, pack and mail packages anywhere.

International Arrivals is open Monday through Saturday from 10 until 5:30, and Thursday and Friday evenings until 9.

31 YEARS IN FLOWERS
At Flower Basket. Since 1943, Florence Bell Hillier has been creating artistic arrangements and guaranteeing the freshness of flowers

The store is delightful with many green plants set in pebble-filled bins. We saw small trees on down to tiny one dollar baby plants that you can nourish and raise yourself.

Cactus gardens, terrariums and many dried-flower arrangements are here too.

store create the various arrangements, Mrs. Voorhees who has been with The Flower Basket almost since its beginning is the dried-flower specialist.

There are small cups, bowls, baskets and glass boxes filled with these dried flowers. One of the prettiest bouquets with several small roses was set in a brass trimmed octagonal glass box. The prices begin around $7.

Garden Boutique. Incorporated into the shop is a garden boutique with gifts relating to flowers. These include wrought iron plant stands, an eye-ful of cachepots, decorative watering cans and tiny ceramic animals for terrariums.

In addition, there are the necessities of flower arranging such as metal holders, plant food, and bunches of dried material—even beautiful peacock feathers.

The winner of many awards, including gold medals from the Metropolitan Retailers Association for her wedding arrangements, Mrs. Hillier has shared her knowledge in a new book, "Basic Guide to Flower Arranging." The book contains solutions to many nitty gritty problems and gives several basic arrangements, all successfully pre-tested by Mr. Hillier.

The Flower Basket is at two locations, Nassau Street and since December 8 at Princeton Shopping Center North on Route 206. The hours are 9 until 6 Monday through Saturday and from 11 to 4 on Sundays.

Here's how Sue Kellerman cleans her SYLVAN POOL.

As you can see, Sue doesn't have to knock herself out. That's because while she's enjoying herself, Sue's exclusive Sylvan Automatic Cleaning and Purifying System is hard at work.

And the Automatic Cleaning and Purifying System makes midnight diving just as easy as afternoon floating. Because unlike other filtering systems, ours cleans and purifies automatically 24 hours a day. So all the time you would ordinarily spend on maintenance can be put to far better use—swimming.

We've been designing pools exactly the way people want them for 27 years. And we've discovered many ways to build them that allow you to spend more time in them. Our miracle pool finish PERMALON® is one of them. It will keep your pool beautiful, free of stains and algae, and it requires little yearly maintenance.

To help keep you swimming, Sylvan has built the finest Authorized Service Organization in the business. They're always there with the supplies, and always in direct touch with you. A pool is a lifetime investment. You can rest assured that's the way we'll build it.

With our help, you can have a pool you'll want to stay in all the time. With all our exclusive engineering advances, you'll be able to do just that.

The more you find out about pools, the more you'll find that nobody knows more about your needs than Sylvan.

COMMUNITY SAYS THANKS: Mrs. Susie Brown Waxwood, recipient of the Princeton Area Council of Community Services' annual award for outstanding community service for the past 40 years, is congratulated by Jerry Ven Sant, left, newly elected president, and David O. Johnson, former president of the Council.

PEOPLE In The News

Mrs. Susie Brown Waxwood, of 303 Witherspoon Street, former adult program director and executive director of the Princeton YWCA, has received the Princeton Area Council of Community Services' annual award for outstanding community service. The award was presented at the organization's annual meeting last week in the Princeton Public Library.

A resident of this area for about 40 years, Mrs. Waxwood has also served as president of the Church Women United, chairman of the Mercer County Council on Aging, and commissioner of the Princeton Joint Commission on Aging. She has been treasurer of the Witherspoon Federal Credit Union, which has loaned more than half a million dollars to members of the Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church.

In the award citation, Mrs. Waxwood is described as "a person who never says no, is willing to accept responsibility, is efficient in all she undertakes, and, in her quiet, gracious determined way, is one of the greatest influences in the improvement of life for all people."

John W. Kauffman, 65 Rollingmead, president of the Medical Center at Princeton, has been named recipient of the New Jersey Hospital Association's (NJHA) annual achievement award. The honor, presented by representatives of New Jersey's 104 voluntary, not-for-profit hospitals, was announced by Jack W. Owen, of 12 Lemore Circle, Rocky Hill, president of the NJHA.

As immediate past chairman of the American Hospital Association, Mr. Kauffman has also been the recipient of special awards from the Federation of American Hospitals, a number of state hospital associations and health-related industries. Late last year, he was appointed to a four-year term on the Board of Regents of the National Library of Medicine, Public Health Service, by President Nixon.

Barbara W. Apgar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Holt Apgar, of Cleveland Road West, Hopewell, will report for basic training with the United States Navy at Orlando, Florida, on Friday. Barbara is a graduate of Greenbrier Junior College in Lewisburg, West Virginia, and of Rider College in Lawrenceville.

Marine Gunnery Sergeant James W. Raikes, son of Mrs. Cornelia Raikes of 186 F Spruce Circle, is serving in Egypt as part of Operation "Nimbus Star." The operation is the military designation for the three-nation project to clear mines and unexploded ordnance from the Suez Canal and the surrounding sea and land areas.

Maria Kelleher, of 176 Parkside Drive, has received a Blue Key award for excellence in Italian at Colorado College in Colorado Springs. The award was presented at the school's 18th annual Honors Convocation.

Ken Syberg, of 5 Suffolk Lane, Princeton Junction, has been elected vice-president for sales of Dualite Products Inc., an Ohio-based manufacturer of illuminated advertising signs and displays. He will supervise a staff of four area sales managers covering the northeast United States from Maine to Virginia. Mr. Syberg has just completed moving the Dualite sales division office from Long Island to mid-town Manhattan.

We know him for his courageous challenge against an entrenched congressman in 1972.
At that time he took an active, positive

We know him now as the candidate who speaks clearly on the issues—Nixon's removal from office, curbing inflation, controlling the oil industry, public campaign financing.

We support his continued interest in women's issues, particularly such matters as comprehensive day care and adequate

John McPhee, the Drakes Corner Road resident and staff writer for the New Yorker, has another book out—his 10th. Like the nine others, this one, "The Curve of Binding Energy," appeared originally in the New Yorker, in three parts late last year. Also like the others, it has been published by Farrar, Straus and Giroux. And, again not unlike the others, this one is marked by the distinctive McPhee style—lucid explanations of telling details that most writers either wouldn't appreciate or couldn't recognize.

Experienced McPhee readers will not assume, however, that this book is anything at all like the others in its content. After writing about wingless flying machines, oranges, the New Jersey Pine Barrens and the island of Colonsay, among other topics, Mr. McPhee this time meticulously and dramatically reports on the life and works of one Theodore B. Taylor, a theoretical physicist and conceptual designer of atomic bombs.

Dr. Taylor conceived and designed the largest-yield fission bomb ever exploded by any nation. He also designed a bomb that was, at the time, the lightest and smallest ever made. What captured Mr. McPhee's interest, apparently, was Dr. Taylor's assertion that one person working alone could fabricate a homemade atomic bomb. "The Curve of Binding Energy" documents Dr. Taylor's efforts to improve the security for nuclear materials that could be used to make such a bomb.

Dr. George Bird, of 85 Red Hill Road, director of the Rutgers University School of Chemistry, has been awarded a one-year Guggenheim Fellowship to conduct research in his special field. Dr. Bird will be at the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology in Zurich, where he will work on theoretical and experimental chemistry and physics of photographic processes. He plans to arrive in Zurich in September and will remain there until just before the 1975-76 academic year begins.

Margaret Lechner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Lechner, 15 Madison Street, has completed teaching a semester-long course on the wilderness at Earlham College, Richmond, Indiana. The course, which carries full credit at Earlham, included a hiking trip through the Big Bend area of Texas.

Miss Lechner, a 1968 graduate of Princeton High School and a 1972 graduate of Earlham, helped develop the freshman orientation program at Earlham. This summer she is leading Out-wood Bound expeditions through the Texas wilderness.

Hazel Henderson of 60 Hodge Road will be one of the speakers June 7 at the Middle Atlantic Regional Conference of the American Association of University Women at Haverford College, Haverford, Pa. A writer, environmental activist and consultant, she will speak on "Limits of Traditional Economics."

"Food Chains and Ecosystems," a book written by George I. and Bernice S. Schwartz of Kingston, has recently been published by Doubleday & Co. Subtitled, "Ecology for Young Experimenters," the book is a practical guide to experiments young scientists can perform in their own backyard, or neighborhood pond or woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Schwartz also are co-authors of "Life in a Log," which was awarded honorable mention by the New York Academy of Sciences for excellence in the field of science books for young readers. Mr. Schwartz, a former teacher, is also the author of "Life in a Drop of Water."

ART In Princeton

FOR EARLY SUMMER
At University Museum. During the seventh century, the Arab Moslems began a series of conquests that joined most of the Middle Eastern nations into a single civilization. Although the Moslems had no art of their own, the highly developed cultures of the nations they conquered were generally homogenized into what is known as Islamic art.

The evolution of this art is the story of the continuing conquests. As new nations were conquered, new styles, motifs and techniques enriched already developed art forms. The art was not religious but reflected the teachings of Muhammed in the intertwining of art and daily living.

Islamic art at the Princeton University Art Museum contains objects that date back to the seventh century when the conquests began, and extend through the late 19th century. The diversity of materials contained in this exhibit reflects not only painting and architecture but also the extension of the art into everyday life. Pottery, bookbinding, ceramic tiles, rugs, glass, metalwork and jewelry are included.

Abstract decoration and intricacy of pattern are apparent in all the objects, as is the concern with stylized versions of nature forms. Rich use of materials includes gilt, enamels, and intensity of color that creates the same visual wealth as the use of gleaming metal.

More than 50 bookpaintings and illuminations reflect the richness and elaborate design of both the painting and the calligraphy as well as portraying aspects of the culture. Polo players, hunters, kings and nobles are depicted in exquisite color and delicate line embellished with gilt and calligraphy.

Henry Gaudier-Brzeska lived a short but romantic life in the early part of this century. Erudite, talented and bohemian, he worked among many of the major intellectual figures of his time. Although he died at 25, during World War I, he left behind enough work to enable succeeding generations to appreciate his artistic stature.

A display of Gaudier-Brzeska drawings, accompanied by a few pieces of sculpture, illustrates a stylistic approach which reflects artistic exploration of form similar to that of other major artists of the era. An interest in volume and structural mass is evident in the linear approaches to the human form as well as in some animal sketches. A search for new means of expression can be seen in the cubist development, the examination of calligraphic approach and a general economy of line.

At Gallery 100. The garden show includes summer art as well as some of the accoutrements of picnic-style living. Swings and plant swings by weaver Betty Park are created out of a range of richly-toned fibers that make for a happy combination of function and the weavers art. Pottery by Connie Bracci, Lucy Judson and Beatrice Lanzrein include cachepots, casseroles and decorative pieces. Animal sculpture by Dean Kennedy and a few small floral paintings by Eileen Shabbender are accompanied by baskets from China, old crocks, a birdhouse and other signs of summer.

At Studio on the Canal. Paintings by Janet Welsh are featured. A traditionalist in both technique and style, Mrs. Welsh skillfully paints portraits, florals and figure studies in a realistic manner. Color and subject are portrayed in a naturalistic fashion.

At Gallery of Fine Art. The current display includes Indian Miniature painting of several centuries. These small paintings are elegant, stylized reflections of the life style of the upper classes. Finely-wrought studies of palaces, hunts, beautiful ladies and portraits are created with small pattern, rich color and gold embellishment.

Erotic painting was another important aspect of the Indian miniature. Several fine examples are on display. While sexually explicit, the paintings maintain the same formality of style and the same patterns and architectural and floral elements as the more mundane reflections of Indian life.

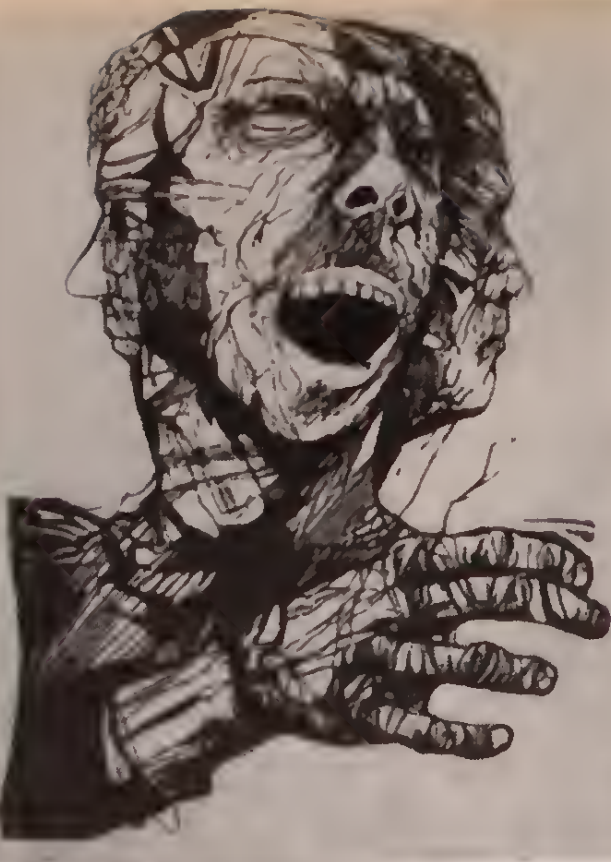

Landscapes by Wolf Kahn are also featured. Local barns, fields and lakes are developed in soft colors. The paintings maintain a naturalistic aspect but are highly sophisticated in their spatial and color relationships.

Kahn carefully combines forms and volumes resulting in balanced and harmonious compositions. The tranquil, hucolic aspects of the subjects are maintained throughout.

At Susuki. Paintings by Manuel Monedero are on display at Susuki. Noted as a portrait painter, Monedero vigorously painted works all deal with the human form. A sense of drama is created by strong brushwork and muted tone in his portrayal of cock fights, drinkers, children and other subjects reflecting daily life.

A range of subject matter enables the painter to demonstrate more romantic approaches as well as the stronger, more dramatic works.

If you make a lot of 10¢ and 15¢ New Jersey calls...we have a way to save you money.

It's called Selective Calling*, and here's how it works. For a small additional monthly charge, you can add any New Jersey Bell exchange which has a 10 or 15 cent toll charge to your local calling area. Then you can dial it direct, and talk as often and as long as you want, without paying toll charges.

For individual line residence customers, the monthly rate for the first exchange selected ranges from $1.74 to $3.39. Additional exchanges cost from 51¢ to $2.16 each. (For business customers, Selective Calling is available on a slightly different plan.)

And here's a money saving idea for 21¢ calls.

All individual line residence customers can now arrange up to one hour of talking time a month (on a cumulative basis) to all 21¢ points dialed directly (i.e., without the services of an operator) for $4.11 per month. This service does not apply from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday...except on major holidays.

For more information on Selective Calling or optional toll service, call your local Telephone Business Office or Business Service Center.

Although records are made to be broken, did you ever realize how many baseball records have NOT been broken in this century.... No big league regular has made a higher season batting average than Hugh Duffy's .438 in 1894.... Nobody has stolen more bases than Harry Stovey's 156 in 1888.... No pitcher has won more than 60 games in a season as Hoss Radbourn did in 1884.... And, no pitcher has struck out as many as 505 batters in one season as Mathew Kilroy did in 1886.

Here's a tricky question.... What uniform number did baseball great Ty Cobb wear during his career... Oddly enough, Cobb never had a number on his uniform in all the years he played in the big leagues.... The reason was that Cobb retired in 1928 and the major leagues did not start putting numbers on their players until 1931.... Thus many top stars of the past went through their whole careers without ever having a number on their uniforms.

Ever wonder what was the longest tennis match in history... The record was set in a doubles match in which Mark Cox and Bob Wilson defeated Charlie Pasarell and Rom Holmberg at Salisbury, Md., in 1968 by the scores of 26-24, 17-19, 30-28.... That match took six hours and 23 minutes to set the all-time official record.

I bet you didn't know that our sales, production and claim service are all rated A+AAAAA. We are proud of our excellence.

PHS NETMEN REPEAT

In Central N.J. Tennis. The Princeton High School tennis team, defending Central New Jersey Group 3 champion, successfully defended its crown Friday when it defeated Bridgewater-Raritan East, 3-1, Friday at Franklin Township High School.

The next day at the Princeton University Courts, where the top 16 teams in the state had assembled, PHS lost in its bid for a state Group 3 championship when it was eliminated, 4-1, by Demarest in the first round. PHS had been ousted last year by Demarest in the Group 3 finals.

Against Bridgewater, Dan Aronovic, won the number one singles, 6-0, 7-6. "He did a real nice job," commented coach Bill Humes of Aronovic, who was filling in for the regular number one player, Andre Eichenberger. The latter had been sidelined by illness.

Dan Schulman lost the number two singles but Phil Ebersole gave PHS the lead again with a 6-3, 7-5 triumph in his match, and the Little Tigers clinched it when Kevin Little and Dan Amarel won the number one doubles in straight sets.

Princeton had advanced to the final round by defeating Manasquan earlier, 4-1.

Humes described the 4-1 loss to Demarest as "a very close 4-1."

Eichenberger came back for the match but lost, 6-1, 6-1. Aronovic, playing his second fine match in as many days, won 6-4, 7-6. Then Ebersole, after losing his first set, 6-0, won a 7-6 tie-breaker to even the match. In the final set, he saved a couple of match points, Humes said, but finally lost it, 6-4.

Little and Amarel lost their doubles match, 6-4, 6-4, and Steve Ebersole and Schulman carried their opponents to three sets before losing the number two doubles.

The Little Tigers ended with a 15-3 record. Their other two setbacks were dual meet losses to Christian Brothers and Metuchen.

Two Will Graduate. Humes loses only two through graduation: Phil Ebersole and Little. However, as in past years, Humes has a number of talented players waiting to move up. Heading the list will be David Bowen, a sophomore, and a younger Aronovic. "Certainly, we'll be able to replace the two that we lose," said Humes. He added that the 1975 squad would be dominated by sophomores and juniors.

In short, there will be no lessening of the hammerlock that PHS enjoys over county schools on the tennis court.

FIRST TIME EVER

PHS in Lacrosse Tournament. Princeton High School's fine lacrosse season under new coach Bill Cirullo has culminated with the team being selected to participate for the first time in the post-season state tournament.

The Little Tigers were scheduled to meet Hanover Park in the opening round this Wednesday afternoon at 4 at Hanover Park, which is located just north of Morristown.

Earlier in the season, Hanover Park defeated PHS, 11-1, but Cirullo brushed that aside. "I think we've got a good chance," he said, "if we continue to play the way we've been playing."

Princeton won its last three in a row, including a 9-3 victory over Newton in its season's finale last week, to end with an 8-3 record. As a consequence, PHS was ranked fifth among all public high schools in the state playing the sport, and the high ranking earned the Little Tigers the invitation to play in the tournament.

"We've done extremely well," said Cirullo. "I think it is an achievement for the kids."

Baseball Tryouts Thursday

Although he didn't say it, it was an achievement for Cirullo, too. Working without an assistant, Cirullo had to oversee both varsity and junior varsity squads. His squad only numbered 35, while Hunterdon Central, in contrast, one of the teams PHS battled this spring, had a 118-man squad.

"We were able to stay on the same field with Hunterdon, and I think it is a tribute to the quality of the players at PHS," Cirullo commented. "They all stayed out after the first week of practice, when a few dropped out. They stayed through thick and thin."

Ready to Play. Against Newton in the finale last week, PHS did everything well, Cirullo said. "It was their last home game...they were ready to play." The Little Tigers took a 6-1 halftime lead, and "it was just all Princeton," Cirullo continued.

"Our passing and stickwork was extremely good...every part of our game was good. We put four quarters of good ball together, something we've all been waiting to see."

Cirullo said that the PHS scoring was divided among the players who have been carrying the attack for the Blue and White all season: Ted Baruch, Mark Campbell, Mace Mohrmann, Ron Campbell, Richard Warfield and John Figueroa.

Two of Princeton's five losses were one-goal setbacks to Pingry (in sudden death overtime after two extra periods) and a 7-6 loss to Peddie. Both could have gone either way and if they had fallen on Princeton's side, the Little Tigers would have had a 10-1 mark. Even so, 8-3 is the best record attained by PHS since the sport was introduced in the 1965 season.

No matter what happens in the state event, "looking back," said Cirullo about his first season as a head coach, "I couldn't have been more pleased. Working with such a great bunch of guys made coaching a pleasure."

He also tossed a bouquet to the PHS followers. "I've covered lacrosse games all around the state and I haven't seen a crowd more devoted than Princeton's. The crowds can't compare to ours. It's a pleasure to play when you have that kind of support."

All in all it was a very good year for Cirullo and PHS.

TWO NINES WIN

In Tournaments Here. Seton Hall will go to Omaha and New Haven will travel to Springfield, Ill., as a result of baseball tournaments played at Mercer County Park and Clarke Field last weekend.

Seton Hall will represent District II in the NCAA Tournament. New Haven won the right to play in the NCAA College Division championships after winning the Northeast Regional title here.

Favored St. John's was upset in the opening round of a action at Mercer County Park Friday, after Thursday's games were rained out. The Redmen brought a 25-4 record into the tournament and started a pitcher with a 9-0 mark and a 0.42 earned run average, but fell 4-1 to St. Joseph's, which was no better than 17-13. Same day, Seton Hall (31-8-1) turned back Penn State, the 1973 District champion, also by 4 to 1.

In Saturday games, Penn State was eliminated when it lost, 5-4, to St. John's and St. Joseph's bowed out after successive defeats by St. John's, 8-0, and Seton Hall, 4-3. That put Seton Hall and St. John's in Sunday's championship round, but the latter was faced with the need to win twice in order to buy a ticket to Omaha.

The Redman never made it once, bowing in the first game, 11 to 7. The big man with the bat was, appropriately, the designated hitter, Jack Cust, who drove in half a dozen runs with a single and a grand slam.

For Princeton's disbanded team, there was a touch of irony in Seton Hall's NCAA triumph. The "1" in the Pirates' final 33-8-1 record was a scoreless tie with the Tigers, which the Orange and Black's third ranked pitcher, Mike French, was on the verge of winning here when rain washed out the proceedings.

On Clarke Field, meanwhile, New Haven and Montclair State survived as C.W. Post, Ithaca, M.I.T. and Adelphi were eliminated in play that began Thursday. Like Seton Hall, Montclair came into action Sunday needing two victories to win the tournament.

A ninth-inning rally nailed down the first, two runs scoring on a pinch-hit triple and a sacrifice fly. That gave MSC a 5-4 triumph, but it lost in the afternoon, 4 to 1.

HOPE FOR THE FUTURE

Lacrosse Outlook
Optimistic. Ability to win three of its last five games plus the arrival of a second consecutive strong freshman squad has created a bright outlook for Princeton's lacrosse team in 1975. The Tigers have not topped the .500 mark since 1967 but feel that next spring will see them able to turn back some of the opponents to which they came close this year.

Bright spots on the schedule were the 12-7 conquest of Army -- the first Tiger triumph over the cadets since 1957 -- and the ability to come within three goals of tying Hofstra and Rutgers, both of which qualified for the eight-team NCAA playoffs. If the Orange and Black is likely to improve on this year's 6-8 mark -- and fourth place finish in the Ivy race -- it is not, realistically, about the challenge for the league's top spot. Cornell, 6-0 this year and a 17-4 victor over Princeton, will remain head and shoulders above the rest of the circuit.

Final statistics for the season show that Jon Pettit, the Ridgeview Road resident, ran his individual scoring record to 104 points. Thirty of those came in his senior year, as he climaxed his career with selection to the second All-Ivy team.

Goalie Bill Cronin, a three-year regular with Pettit, took three records with him. He was credited with most saves in a game (27), in one season (277) and in his career (644). He, too, was accorded second All-Ivy honors.

Pettit's Princeton mark is likely to last only three or four games into the 1975 season. After two seasons, junior Bill Chaires has 93 points to his credit, and already holds the Tiger mark for goals scored with 73.

Chaires was the only Princetonian named to the first All-Ivy team, which otherwise was composed of five players from Cornell and two each from Penn and Brown. A good season next year will give Chaires a rarely-matched honor: three times All-Ivy.

4 FROM PHS QUALIFY

For Group State Track Meet. By finishing among the top five in the Group 3 Sectionals held Saturday at Highland Park, four members of the Princeton High School track team have qualified for the Group State Championships to be held Saturday at the Highland Park track. They are Pete Nichols and Royce Flippin who finished second and fourth in the two mile--Nichols's in 9:40.2, Flippin's in 9:48.6; John Woodside, who ran the mile in 4:35.1 to place fourth in that event, and Mark McLean who captured second place in the pole vault with a leap of 12-6. Those who finish among the top five Saturday will advance to the NJSIAA State Track Championship, where all groups will compete in Rutgers Stadium the following Saturday.

PHS coach Marc Anderson commented that in comparing the times of winners in other sectional meets held in the state, the performances weren't any better in the events that the four from PHS will be entered. He stated that he believes each has a good chance of winning a Group 3 state individual championship.

As always, there were those who just missed qualifying and PHS had its share. The biggest disappointment for PHS came in the 440, where Freddie Wilson missed qualifying by a fifth of a second. Anderson said that his time of 52.8 was "not anywhere near what he's run."

Wilson, Anderson reported, had the misfortune to be stuck in the outside, sixth lane. It had rained the night before and officials had not had a chance to roll the track. "It was real loose," said Anderson. "It was like running in beach sand in that lane. Wilson was ankle deep in dirt."

Andy Bolster just missed qualifying in the 330 yard hurdles for PHS. He, too, was running in the outside lane. Dave Gilbert placed sixth in the javelin, missing a return trip to Highland Park by two feet.

Fred Berkelhammer was eliminated early in the high jump when he failed to clear the opening height of 5-10, one he had often topped in the past. Because there were so many performers at the meet, Anderson reported that the hard-pressed officials did not allow any warmup jumps. "Berkelhammer had to start cold, and he's one who likes to warm up," he said.

Overall, PHS finished with 12 points to tie Bridgewater-Raritan West for eighth place. Monmouth High School, one of several shore teams that dominated the Group 3 competition, compiled 41 points to finish first.

Final Meet Cancelled. Princeton's final dual meet of the season last week against Hightstown was cancelled because of rain and could not be rescheduled.

"The kids were really disappointed," said Anderson, "because it was a meet we probably should have been able to win. We tried everything but there was no way we could get it in."

A victory would have enabled Anderson to finish with a winning season in his first year as head coach. Instead, the Little Tigers ended all even with a 5-5 dual meet record.

FINAL GAME THURSDAY

For PHS Nine. The beleaguered Princeton High School baseball team will end its season Thursday when it meets Notre Dame in a makeup game. The contest will be played on the Irish diamond, starting at 3:45.

Wednesday, PHS was scheduled to play its final home game of the campaign against Hunterdon Central.

In its only outing last week, PHS lost a 10-1 decision to St. Anthony, collecting only three hits off Iron Mike southpaw Jim Sapia who won his first varsity game.

His counterpart, Greg Robinson was also making his varsity debut for the Little Tigers. Called up from the jayvee squad to help fill in the gaps created when coach Don Blankenbush suspended five regulars for disciplinary reasons, Robinson was touched for ten hits and walked ten. He also received little help in the field, where the Little Tigers were guilty of four errors.

PHS scored its only run in the fifth after Steve Kopp, who has been the most consistent player on the team this year, doubled and Eric Jahn singled him home.

The visiting Iron Mikes won their 15th in 20 starts to remain in the forefront for the Mercer County championship. Their biggest inning was the fourth as they combined three walks, two errors and a single for four runs. Princeton's record dipped to 3-12.

ETS TOPS FORRESTAL

In Business Softball. Educational Testing Service knocked Forrestal from the undefeated ranks by beating them 19-8 in this year's edition of their annual rivalry. ETS was losing after two innings, but Jerry Murphy's three home runs combined with those of Willie Turner and Clarence Gilbert put ETS in the lead to stay, supported by excellent pitching by Chris Wynings.

Cities Service also remained undefeated by beating Firmenich 10-2 in a game which featured homers by Kent Cichocki and Bob Lewis. Al Anderson's 3 for 4 helped the winners, as did Jack Sheldon's strong pitching.

McGraw Hill, led by John Johnson's two home runs and winning pitcher Chet Rue's own circuit clout overpowered RCA(B) 22-6. Dennis Cubberly batted 4 for 4 to cap a good night for McGraw Hill's strong offensive effort.

Although the First National Bank of Princeton was outthit by RCA(A) 16-12, the First was able to capitalize on their hitting effort by outscoring RCA 11-8. Strong pitching by Malcolm Rodgers and good team defense symbolized the win, preparing First National for its game with rival, United Jersey Banks, next week.

Geophysical Fluid Dynamic Labs bounced back from its defeat at the hands of ETS last week to beat North American Philips Lighting this week 16-5 on three homers each by Ted Terpstra, Roger Stuart, and Bob Withelder. Winning pitchers Mel Rosenstein and Rus Sinclair were helped by an explosive 9-run fourth inning for the winners.

Colin Pederson and Mike D'Angelo's homers helped pace ERC to an easy 20-1 victory over Ingersoll Rand, while United Jersey Banks scored their first win of the season with 18 hits to beat Princeton Day School 12-11. And three hits apiece by Bob McCarrick, Clark Lennon, and

ARONOVIC IS VICTOR

In Indoor Tennis Tournery. Capping a successful and busy indoor season, the Princeton Indoor Tennis Center is holding its Second Annual Tennis Championships.

From a field of 64 in the men's single competitions, Dan Aronovic of Princeton High School battled Frank Andrejak of Ewing taking the title in two sets, 6-4, 6-4. Enroute to the finals, Aronovic chalked up a major victory in the semis, defeating Mark Knowlton, 2-6, 6-3, 7-6.

Coming up from the other half of the draw, Andrejak, another high school star made it all the way, ousting Dan Schulman of Princeton High School in the semis, 6-0, 6-2. Schulman edged Bryce Thompson in a closely contested match, 7-6, 7-6 in the quarter finals. Others in the round of 8 were Dave King of

New Brunswick, Peter Benchley of Pennington and Bud Winbigger of Princeton. Laura Goldfeld won the women's singles events, defeating Natalie Usiskin 6-3, 4-6, 6-3. Laura moved into the final round defeating Karen

HUN SHARES TITLE

In Penn Jersey League. Well the rain finally did us," commented Hun coach Bill McQuade after Thursday's shower threw the Penn-Jersey schedule into a cocked hat. McQuade had kept a wary eye on the weather as Hun, battling Pennington School for the championship in its division in the league while at the same time trying to schedule the prep school state championship tournament, saw the available open dates windle down to nothing.

As a result, Hun and Pennington have been declared champions of the northern division of the league with 8-2 records; Perkiomen (9-2) is winner of the southern division. Conflicts over dates have prevented a playoff between Hun and Pennington in a championship game for the first time between the two division leaders. "We're sort of champions," said McQuade who enjoyed his third fine year in a row since taking over Hun coach three years ago. The former Princeton High School baseball captain and conference player at Juniata College guided Hun to a 4-3 record his first year, 13-4 last year and 12-4 this season. Each time, Hun won the division in the Penn-Jersey league.

Hun stayed alive in the race's year with a Frank Periwel victory over Pennington School last week, winning the game in the bottom of the eleventh, 3-2. "Ive Clark went all the way," Hun to win his eighth without a loss. He struck out ten. After Pennington tied the score in the fifth, 1-1, the game remained deadlocked until the bottom of the eleventh, when the visiting Red Raiders capitalized on two errors to go ahead, 2-1.

With two down in the tenth, Connie Cathel kept Hun's flickering hopes alive when he was safe at first on a throwing error by the shortstop. A ARONOVIC WINS INDOOR TENNIS EVENT: Dan Aronovic (left), singles player for the Princeton High School tennis team, defeated Frank Andrejak of Ewing to win the men's singles tournament at the Princeton Indoor Tennis Center on Washington Road. passed ball advanced Cathel to second, forcing the Pennington coach to motion for his ace pitcher, Bill Turner, to face Dave Pone, Hun's leading hitter who entered the game batting above .500. Pone greeted Turner with his second hit of the game to tie the score again at 2-2. In the bottom of the eleventh, again with two away, Mark Schwartz walked, Bruce LiSoocy singled and then Paul Soderman singled in the winning run. "It was a great game and a great game for us to win," said McQuade.

Three On All-Star Squad. Three Hun players have been named to the first-team Penn Jersey league. They are Clark, who in addition to his perfect mound record, is batting .360; Cathel, who at one point was batting .537 near the end of the season; and Pone, who is hitting the ball at better than a .400 clip.

PDS 9 ELIMINATED In State Tourney. Princeton Day School was credited with two wins and one loss but don't expect the ballplayers or Coach Tom DeVito to take too much pleasure in the fact. The wins were really forfeits from Morristown-Beard Academy and the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf.

The loss was for real, a 4-0 victory by Wardlaw Prep in the opening round game of the New Jersey Prep B tournament. Wardlaw was scheduled to play in the final with the Pennington School, which defeated No. 1 ranked Neumann Prep, 6-2. Glenn Russo, who wasn't quite as sharp as he has been in past games, took the loss against Wardlaw. Errors, three of them, once again hindered the Panther cause. Two consecutive doubles in the sixth inning were the only hard hits off Russo, who ended the year with a 3-3 record. The team's final record was 8-8.

The PDS offense, meanwhile, was controlled by a tight Wardlaw defense. Frank Konstantynowicz hit a double and a single to lead the Panther hitters, as he had all season. His batting average for the year was .485. For DeVito, the forfeits diminished his chances to look at some new faces for next year. "We've still got a young team," he said, "most sophomores, so we'll have a nucleus that will stick together for a while."

Gone next year will be seniors Terry Ward, Ted Brown and Rick Fein. Also missing will be catcher Nick Brady, who will enroll at Hun. DeVito expects three junior varsity players to move up to starting roles: Mike Walters, a pitcher and centerfielder; Steve Baker, a second baseman and good hitter; and John Hickling, a catcher.

PDS PLACES FOUR On All-Star Lacrosse. After an otherwise disappointing season, the Princeton Day School lacrosse team placed four players on the State B-division all-star team. Midfielders Cam Ferrante and Johnny Bragg, both seniors, made the first team, as did juniors Dich Gordon, attack, and Doug Robinson, defenseman. The Hun School placed midfielder John Marshall, attackman Jack Reeder and defenseman Sandy Buck on the first team. Hun's Eugene Reid and Scott Taylor were named all-state honorable mentions.

SUMMER LACROSSE SET League to Start June 11. The Princeton Summer Lacrosse League, directed by Hawley Waterman under sponsorship of the Princeton Recreation Department, will begin its 1974 season on Tuesday, June 11.

Application blanks may be obtained at the Department offices in the Township Hall complex on Route 206. Players of high school age and up are eligible.

The $4 registration fee will include a jersey, but players must furnish their own equipment. The league will consist of four or six teams, based on the number of available players. Games are played Tuesday and Thursday evenings in Marquand Park.

VICTORS IN 37TH HOLE In Springdale Tournament. Kester Pierson, former club champion, and Burt Ford won the annual member-guest tournament staged on Memorial Day weekend at Springdale Gold Club. They needed an extra hole to triumph over Ralph Allaire and Frank McCracken.

With each twosome recording its best ball on 18 out of 36 holes, and using full handicaps, Pierson and Ford posted a net 58, as did Allaire and McCracken. On the first extra hole Sunday, Ford holed a birdie 3 for the victory.

Want hardtop styling, gas economy, and solid resale value in a small car?

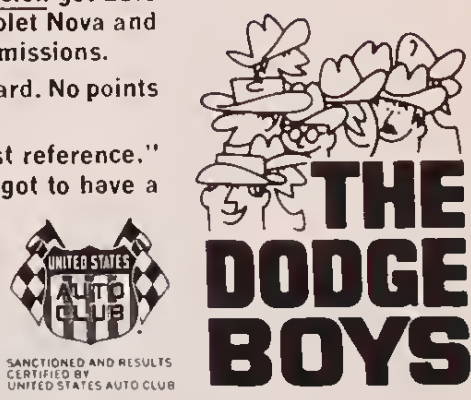

THE DODGE BOYS HAVE THE ANSWER!

DART SWINGER HARDTOP: ONLY THE DODGE BOYS HAVE SO MANY SMALL HARDTOPS!

- A six-cylinder Dodge Dart Swinger with an automatic transmission got 23.6 mpg. That was better gas mileage than that of both the Chevrolet Nova and Ford Maverick six-cylinder cars equipped with standard transmissions.
- All 1974 Dodge Darts have the Electronic Ignition System standard. No points or condenser (to wear out or get wet). Fewer tune-ups.
- Ask a friend about his Dodge Dart. Dart owners are our "best reference." (With over a million and a half satisfied Dart owners, you've got to have a friend who owns one!)

Mileage and comparison data are from the light-city-traffic phase of USAC's "Miles-per-gallon Showdown." The light-city-traffic phase of the test covered a distance of 108 miles at an average speed of 25 mph. For complete results of this USAC test, visit our showroom. (Naturally, the mileage you'd achieve depends on personal driving habits, road and traffic conditions.)
